Swimmer, 57 drowns in Crooked Lake

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
bbeitscher@lakelandmedia.com

Neither police nor the Lake County Coroner's Office have determined why a 57-year-old Lindenhurst man drowned in Crooked Lake on June 13.

Several people at or near the lake saw a man, later identified as Constantin Burtea, swimming near his boat at 9:25 a.m.

A 22-year-old woman and her 27-year-old boyfriend, fishing off a pier, heard a call for help, and saw the man apparently struggling to stay afloat.

The young man attempted to reach the swimmer. He yelled at a woman on shore to call 911, and she did so.

The woman was on the deck of her house, and saw the man swim toward shore, then go under the water. At first, she told police, she thought the man was diving.

The 22-foot fishing boat drifted to the northeast side of the lake, in the opposite direction of the swimmer.

At 10:05 a.m., the boat, green and white, with the word "Hurricane" printed on its side, was located. It contained a shirt and jacket, rubber hip waders, a cellular telephone, car keys and boat keys, which were still in the ignition.

While police were attempting to identify the boat owner, the cell phone rang. The caller was in the company of Burtea's wife, who was heading for the accident site. She had tried unsuccessfully to reach her husband, and then heard of the possible drowning, and became concerned.

At 11:50 a.m., police learned that a male wearing swimming trunks was found in the water on the east side of the lake, slightly south of where the swimmer was first seen.

A fireboat from Antioch brought the man to shore, where, following protocol, Lake Villa Rescue Squad EMTs attempted to resuscitate the man, while transporting him to St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan.

Sandra L. Burtea, 55, Constantin's wife, became distraught, and was also taken to the hospital for observation.

Lake County Deputy Coroner Orlando Portillo declared Burtea dead at 12:01 p.m.

An autopsy, conducted by Dr. Nancy Jones, a pathologist, determined the cause of death was drowning. Although her post-mortem report notes there was some indication of heart disease, it could not be determined if it was a factor in the man's death.

Burtea's wife said he had been in good spirits when he went out to install a battery on the boat at 8:15 that morning.

The boat was found equipped with five flotation devices, all in their packages. Burtea was not wearing a flotation device. Hypothermia was not an issue, as the water temperature was 74.2 degrees Fahrenheit at the surface, and 72 degrees at a depth of 20 feet.

Crooked Lake, with no public access, is open only to lakefront residents. Burtea, and at least two of the witnesses to his drowning, lived on Crooked Lake Lane.

173 Corridor Council protects 'horse country'

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Though residents would have preferred it if the Route 173 Corridor Council had actually included Route 173 in its Joint Local Land Resource Management Plan, the plan was generally well-received.

Much of the initial comments and questions fielded by council members surrounded concerns that the plan, mapped to include 3,300 acres located between I-94 and Route 45, with southern border of one-quarter mile north of Route 173 and the state line as the northern border, did not address or protect the corridor itself.

"Expand the plan down to 173," pleaded Shelly Kiefer. "You've protected us against Neumann Homes, but not against Wal-Mart. Let's just leave this place as it is."

Several times, Phil Rovang, corridor council facilitator and director of planning, building and development for Lake County, explained that the members of the council, comprised of the mayors and presidents of Antioch, Old Mill Creek, Wadsworth and Zion as well as Lake County board members Judy Martini (R-Antioch) and Randall Whitmore (R-Wadsworth), had chosen only to include the area with which there was easy consensus about how the land should be utilized.

"We decided to take care of the easy part first," he said. "It seemed to us that while we had no doubts about the land uses north, we were uncertain about 173."

Within the mapped area, the plan has set out to protect low-density residential uses of one dwelling per five acres average, encourage equestrian uses, parks and open spaces as well as to "preserve and enhance the rural, agrarian character and landscape; to preserve, where appropriate, the historical and rural character; and to preserve and enhance ecologically sensitive areas such as wetlands, floodplains, woodlands and wildlife habitats."

Rovang said the plan does not propose any changes to Lake County's current zoning and/or Comprehensive Plan of 1994 for the area that is largely unincorporated. He stressed that this is a plan and not zoning or pre-zoning zoning.

"What this would do, with the concurrence of the four municipalities, would extend this for another 10 years," he said.

The plan would not be enforceable unless Antioch, Old Mill Creek, Wadsworth, Zion and Lake County all approve it individually. Once it is in effect, developers would not be able to pit one municipality against another to vie for zoning changes that would allow for uses other than those outlined.

Because of this, it was reported that landowners would be protected from "forced annexations" because all municipalities involved would have to honor the plan.

Arthur Daniels, president of the Sexton Company, complained that he would not have known about the public hearing if a tenant had not told him about it. He said he didn't feel the plan allowed owners the best use of their properties and said that mixed uses would be more appropriate, especially for Sexton with property located within two planning districts.

Tim Smith, mayor of Old Mill Creek, said he was shocked that all comments had not been favorable. "I thought we were doing things that everybody would like," he said. "We've spent a lot of time to do what everybody wants."

Some concern was expressed about the "green" corridors, slated as areas for conservation, of which some significantly cut into individuals' properties.

Elmer Van Haecke said, "If this were to happen, how about a little tax incentive for the green space area."

Rovang said it was under consideration.

The full 24-page plan can be viewed online at www.co.lake.il.us/planning/173plan.asp, complete with maps, charts and graphs.

Annexing to village becomes more expensive

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

It will cost those who want to annex to the Village of Antioch more money after June 30. The board of directors approved an annexation fee resolution to offset some of the village's expenses associated with new developments.

As of June 30, those annexing to the village will pay $3,500 per dwelling or $2,750 per non-residential acre prior to recording with Lake County. The action was approved five to one, with Trustee Bob Caulfield voting no.

Caulfield questioned how the fees were determined. "We're saying there is a cost to bring in land, but how have we determined what that cost is?"

Bob Silhan, director of planning, zoning and building, said only a couple of communities have such fees: Lake in the Hills and Orland Park.

"I didn't do a very scientific study, because there isn't a lot to compare," he said. "I estimated costs and that is why I would rather have it as a resolution (over an ordinance) that can be negotiated."

Silhan noted that it is not an inherent right to be able to annex into the village, and that it was important to have a policy in writing.

Attorney Bob Long said that as a resolution, the document doesn't bind the board as an ordinance would and that the board wouldn't be obligated to annex a parcel just because a fee was being paid. "A property owner or developer would have to justify why the village would want it anyway," he said.

Capital purchases, such as fire trucks or police cars, would be acceptable in lieu of cash fees.

"I have a problem with the language," Caulfield said. "This seems to indicate that a capital purchase would be in the same amount as the fee. Either it's a fee, or it's not."

Trustee Mary Turner said this is not intended to be an impact fee. Long said variances are granted all the time, and that approving this resolution sets up a structure from which variances can be made.

Trustee Scott Pierce said he felt it was important to approve the resolution because the village "loses a ton of money" between the time plans are brought in for review and approval.

Larson

"I think this is excellent," said Trustee Dorothy Larson. "Especially the part that says it's a privilege to annex to the village."

St. Peter rummage sale second largest in state

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Last year, the St. Peter rummage sale nearly caught the Lake Forest sale with over $130,000 in sales. According to organizer Claudette Skvarce, it's not only the second largest rummage sale in Lake County, but the second largest in the state.

With a full week to go before the 45th annual rummage sale begins, organizers have brought in a record-breaking number of large items and school full of small items available for bargain hunters.

Treasure hunting will begin on Thursday, June 24 from 6 a.m.-9 p.m. and will continue throughout the weekend. The sale runs a full four days with the doors opening at 8 a.m. on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

In a mere three weeks, donations have been collected, sized, sorted and priced. Skvarce keeps about 100 volunteers busy sorting and marking everything.

"All of the clothing is sorted by size," she said. "You can just go to a rack of your size and don't have to worry about picking through things that are the wrong size."

Nicer clothing items are downstairs in the "French room." Antiques and gifts and artwork can also be found downstairs, as well as brand new items still in the box. This year there are lots of oriental items.

Upstairs is home to crafts, linens, toys, one children's clothing room, one men's clothing room and two women's clothing rooms. The gymnasium is filled with miscellaneous items that don't fit neatly into any one category as well as furniture.

Anything that won't be hurt by the elements is outside.

In all, the St. Peter School is stuffed to the brim with computers, appliances, exercise equipment, bicycles, toys, art, antiques, clothing and vehicles. There's probably even a kitchen sink looking for a new home.

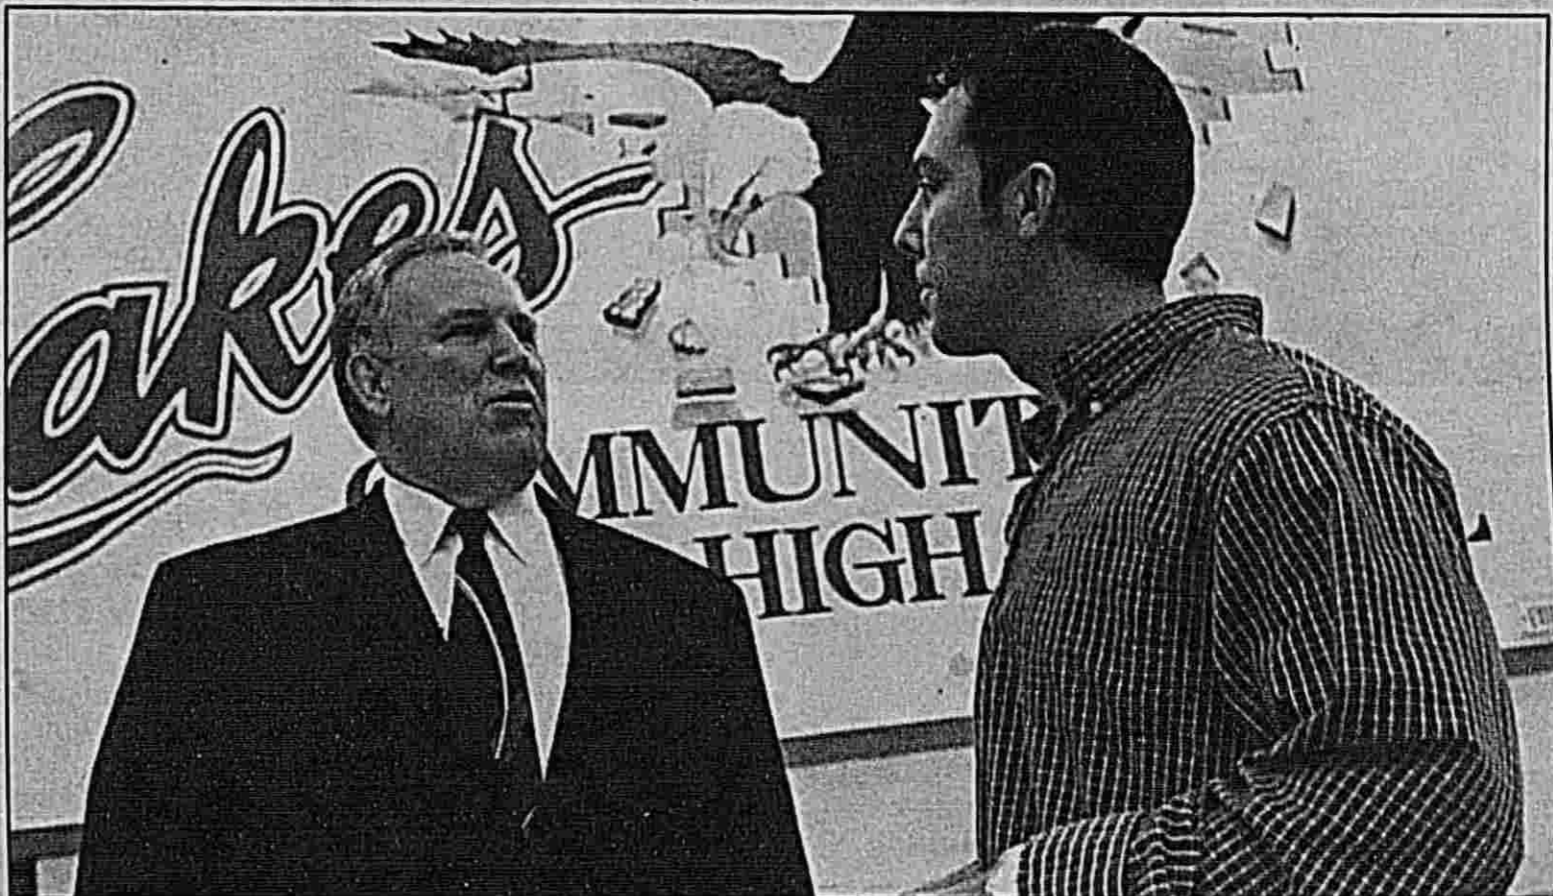

"We have several cars (including a BMW and very nice Chrysler Concorde), and should have about 15 boats when we're done collecting," Skvarce said. "We have 10 refrigerators, the antiques room is filled and we have four boat motors."

Skvarce said, "I've given bigger rooms to the crafts room and the linens room, and for the first time we're going to have clothes running end to end in the hallways."

All mechanical and electronic items are tested to ensure they are in working order.

Items that are not sold at the St. Peter sale are turned over to various other philanthropic organizations including the American Cancer Federation, St. Vincent DePaul in Racine, Wis., Purple Heart Veterans and the Methodist church in Wilmet, Wis.

"You can just find very unique, special pieces here that you can't find anywhere else, even antique stores," Skvarce said. "Usually I say bring a truck, but this year I'm saying bring a semi, because we have lots of great stuff here."

District 117 dedicates high school

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Dennis Hockney, superintendent of Community High School District 117, said dedicating Lakes Community High School in Lake Villa on June 12 was a dream come true for him and a project he was happy to see completed before retiring next month.

"When I was hired, I was told we would need new buildings and schools in different parts of the district," he said. "This has been a long time coming. This is the fruition of a plan started five years ago."

Parents and dignitaries were invited to help celebrate the school's completion and dedication. The school has been getting a test run with Gavin students attending there since their school was closed, and summer school classes for the entire District 117 currently under way. Classes begin next fall for freshmen, sophomores and the juniors and seniors who opted to attend the new school instead of finishing high school at Antioch Community High School.

Hockney previously said it has been the goal of the district to keep the two campuses "cousins" in terms of visual appearance, but "twins" in terms of amenities and opportunities offered to students.

The two schools are identical in the total square feet of space they encompass and are equal in what they offer in auditorium and gymnasium space. Additionally, are identical in terms of amenities like gas kilns for ceramics and science labs.

Lakes Community High School is different from the Antioch campus in that the interior space has been designed for maximum flexibility with no masonry used on interior walls.

"This way, we can reconfigure the space if changes need to be made down the road," Hockney said. "The interior is metal studs and drywall so it wouldn't be that difficult to change things."

The exception to this to the second floor science area, due to the need for gas and water and the plumbing and pipe work necessary to supply them.

The library will take space on two floors and could expand into adjacent rooms. Hockney said, "We're at a time period when we really have to decide how much of the media will be physical versus electronic. We're expecting that we'll have wireless Internet capabilities in the future."

Run supports walking path

While the Run for Freedom is essentially held for the enjoyment of the community, its sponsor, State Bank of The Lakes, always makes a charitable donation of the proceeds of the Fourth of July run/fun walk.

This year, the proceeds from the 10th annual event will be added to over $26,000 that had been previously raised for the construction of a running/walking path to benefit the entire community, and Antioch Community High School's cross country program.

"There are very few places for people to run or walk in Antioch that are away from the dangers of street traffic," said Roger Manderscheid, State Bank of The Lakes' executive vice president and director of the Run For Freedom. "We are pleased that we can do so much to assist in the construction of a path that will be available to both the school and the community."

The Antioch Run For Freedom offers a challenging course that winds through residential streets, and includes two water stations, mile marker displays and course marshals throughout, as well as post-race refreshments.

Individuals and families are welcome to run or walk the course. Although the event is USAITF-sanctioned, having fun is still the main priority. The race begins and ends at the intersection of Cunningham and Poplar streets, one block west of Route 83. Awards will be given to the top three male and female runners overall as well as the top three runners in 14 age groups. Over 1,200 runners and walkers are expected this year.

For the first time, the Antioch Run for Freedom will incorporate the use of chip timing. Participants wear a small device on their shoe that is activated as they cross the start line, and again when crossing the finish line. Chip timing allows for fast, accurate results and eliminates the time delay hindering middle- and end-of-the-pack participants in large events.

The entry fee is $15 for advance registration, $20 day of race. A family rate of $45 is available for immediate family members who pre-register. This family rate is not available on the day of the race.

The first 1,500 entrants receive a T shirt with their race packets. This year youth-sized shirts are available.

The first 500 participants to register and pick up their race packets at the State Bank of The Lakes in Antioch will receive a 10th anniversary drawstring backpack.

Pre-registration for the Antioch Run for Freedom will be held at the State Bank of The Lakes, 440 Lake Street, Antioch, until July 3. Participants may mail applications by June 25, and pick up their race packets the day of the race.

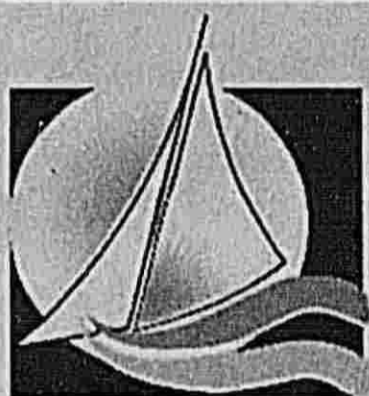

On July 4, chip pick-up and same day registration will be from 6-7:45 a.m. The race starts 8 a.m.

Additional race information and applications are available by logging on to www.thisisyourbank.com or by calling 847-395-2700.

Registration is taking place for the Antioch Public Library's children's program: "laugh it up at your library."

The program is geared towards children between 3-12 years old and runs Monday, June 21 through Saturday, July 31. Registration takes place through June 19.

Children who are not yet reading may be read to, while those who are reading are asked to set an individual goal of how many books they will read over the six weeks.

Free performances will be held throughout the program and will include a comedian, musician, storyteller, puppet show and a special appearance by Popeye and his dog Sweet Pea. Tickets for each day's performance will be available only on the day of the show on a first-come, first-served basis.

This is a free program offered by the library. It is not necessary to be an Antioch resident to participate.

Festival Arts, PM&amp;L co-host fund raiser

A joint fund raiser for PM&L Theatre and Festival Arts of Antioch will offer "One Night of Music from a Distant Shore" on Saturday, June 26 at 8 p.m.

The program will feature Keith Michael Boehm, a graduate of Antioch Community High School and the son of Dennis and Karen Boehm. For the past 20 years, Keith, a former PM&L member, has been living and performing in London.

The concert will include music by Webber, Porter, Lerner and Lowe and Sondheim among others. Chris Kusher, of Grayslake, will accompany him.

Ken Smouse will join with his former student in singing a song from "Into the Woods."

Tickets are $10, and reservations can be made beginning on June 21 by calling 847-395-3055. Box office hours are Monday through Thursday from 5:30-7:30 p.m., Saturday from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., and 90 minutes prior to curtain on show dates.

Stay cool

With the weather outside heating up, the Antioch Fire Department wants to remind residents to take into account the temperature and heat index when planning daily outdoor activities.

The heat index is a combination of the current outdoor temperature and the relative humidity, or amount of moisture present in the air. The higher both of these factors are, the greater the risk of suffering heat exhaustion.

The following are tips for staying cool: slow down, strenuous activities should be reduced or rescheduled to the coolest time of the day; dress for summer by wearing lightweight, and light colored clothing; stay hydrated by continually drinking water, even when not thirsty; don't get too much sun, because sunburn makes the job of heat dissipation that much more difficult; spend more time in air conditioned places, as this makes the body's job of staying cool that much easier; do not drink alcoholic beverages, because the intake of alcohol leads to further dehydration.

Heat exhaustion and Stroke occur because the body is heating up faster than it can cool down. When it is hot, routines should be altered to allow the body time to compensate.

Those with elevated body temperatures and who are feeling faint, have a rapid heart rate, are pale with cool clammy skin and nausea, may be experiencing heat exhaustion. These symptoms may show up very quickly.

If this happens, get to a cooler place, inside or in the shade, immediately. Remove any restrictive clothing, lie down with legs elevated and drink cool water or a beverage with electrolytes. This condition is a precursor to heat stroke.

Heat stroke symptoms include fever of about 105 degrees combined with skin that is dry and very warm. Confusion, rapid pulse and rapid, shallow breathing are other indicators.

If this occurs call 911, move to a cool shady place, towel off with a cool cloth, or use a fan.

For more information, contact the Antioch Fire Department at 847-395-5511.

Bakers add spice to Fourth of July celebration

No doubt, among the tastiest treats of Antioch's Fourth of July celebration are the apple pies baked up for the contest sponsored this year by the Independence Day Celebration Committee and North Bridge Church.

With the holiday fast approaching, entry forms should be mailed to the village, along with the $2 entry fee per category.

As is tradition, there will be two categories: traditional two-crust and Dutch apple. Each contestant will be required to bake two pies per category entered and bring them to Williams Park by 12:30 p.m. on July 4.

Judging begins promptly at 12:30 p.m. Cash prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded to first, second and third place respectively. Additional ribbons will be awarded.

Also, as is tradition, after the judging, pieces of pie will be sold as dessert with ice cream. The proceeds help to cover the costs of the day's events.

Billie Horton, special events coordinator, is keeping track of all the entries and can answer questions about the contest. Her phone number is 847-395-6342.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Overwhelming

Saturday, May 8, the Antioch Postal Service conducted its 12th annual food drive to benefit our community. The response was overwhelming once again. Tolerities and 12,045 pounds of food were collected and distributed to both the Antioch Township Food Pantry and to St. Peter's Food Pantry. Both pantries feel that this will help sustain them through the difficult summer months when food donations are typically at their lowest.

This event is only successful with the generous contributions of you and your neighbors. You can be sure that your donations will go to help less fortunate families in our own community.

On behalf of all the employees of the Antioch Postal Service, St. Peter's Food Pantry, and the Antioch Township Food Pantry, a heartfelt thank you goes out to each and every Antioch resident.

Wrong on the money

Kudos to Julie Murphy for her commentary "Quit playing, take responsibility". Her commentary was right on the mark and has needed to be said for a long time.

I thank the media for covering the meetings so that those who cannot attend know what has taken place.

Every resident of Antioch ought to be appalled that three years have passed since Mayor (Taso) Maravelas took office and his newly appointed financial director describes our financial records as "spaghetti". Mayor Maravelas has been unable to retain good, qualified staff as evidenced by the high turnover of administrative personnel. The village has obviously been ineptly managed.

If the mayor is anticipating running for reelection he needs to consider how he will explain HIS administration.

2004 All-Area Softball Team

1st Runner-Up

Lea Corcoran, P, Jr.
Grayslake

A true sign of any leader is not only the ability to produce results, but also the ability to have the rest of the team follow your example. And that description fits Grayslake junior pitcher Lea Corcoran to a 'T.'

"She takes control of the game," Grayslake coach Stacy Selle said. "When she's on the mound she even directs the defense."

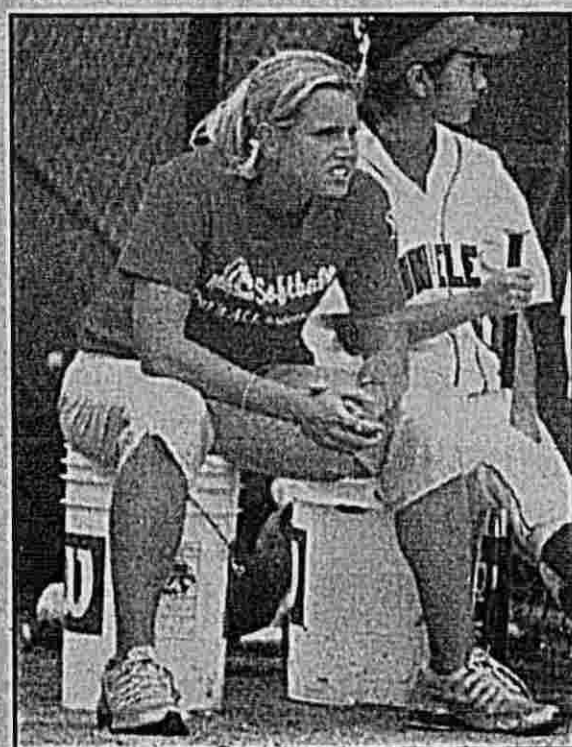

Despite having a record of just 13-16, Corcoran had a 2.53 ERA and fanned 230 hitters in 202 innings.

"When she was on the mound, the girls just felt easier," Selle said. "Her pitching was great."

Also great was her hitting as Corcoran had a .404 batting average, seven home runs, four triples, 31 RBI and 16 runs scored. All of those numbers were team highs.

"She's just a great all-around player," Selle said. "Definitely a double threat."

Coach of the Year

Toni Campbell
Mundelein

It seems like Toni Campbell has been a Mustang all her life.

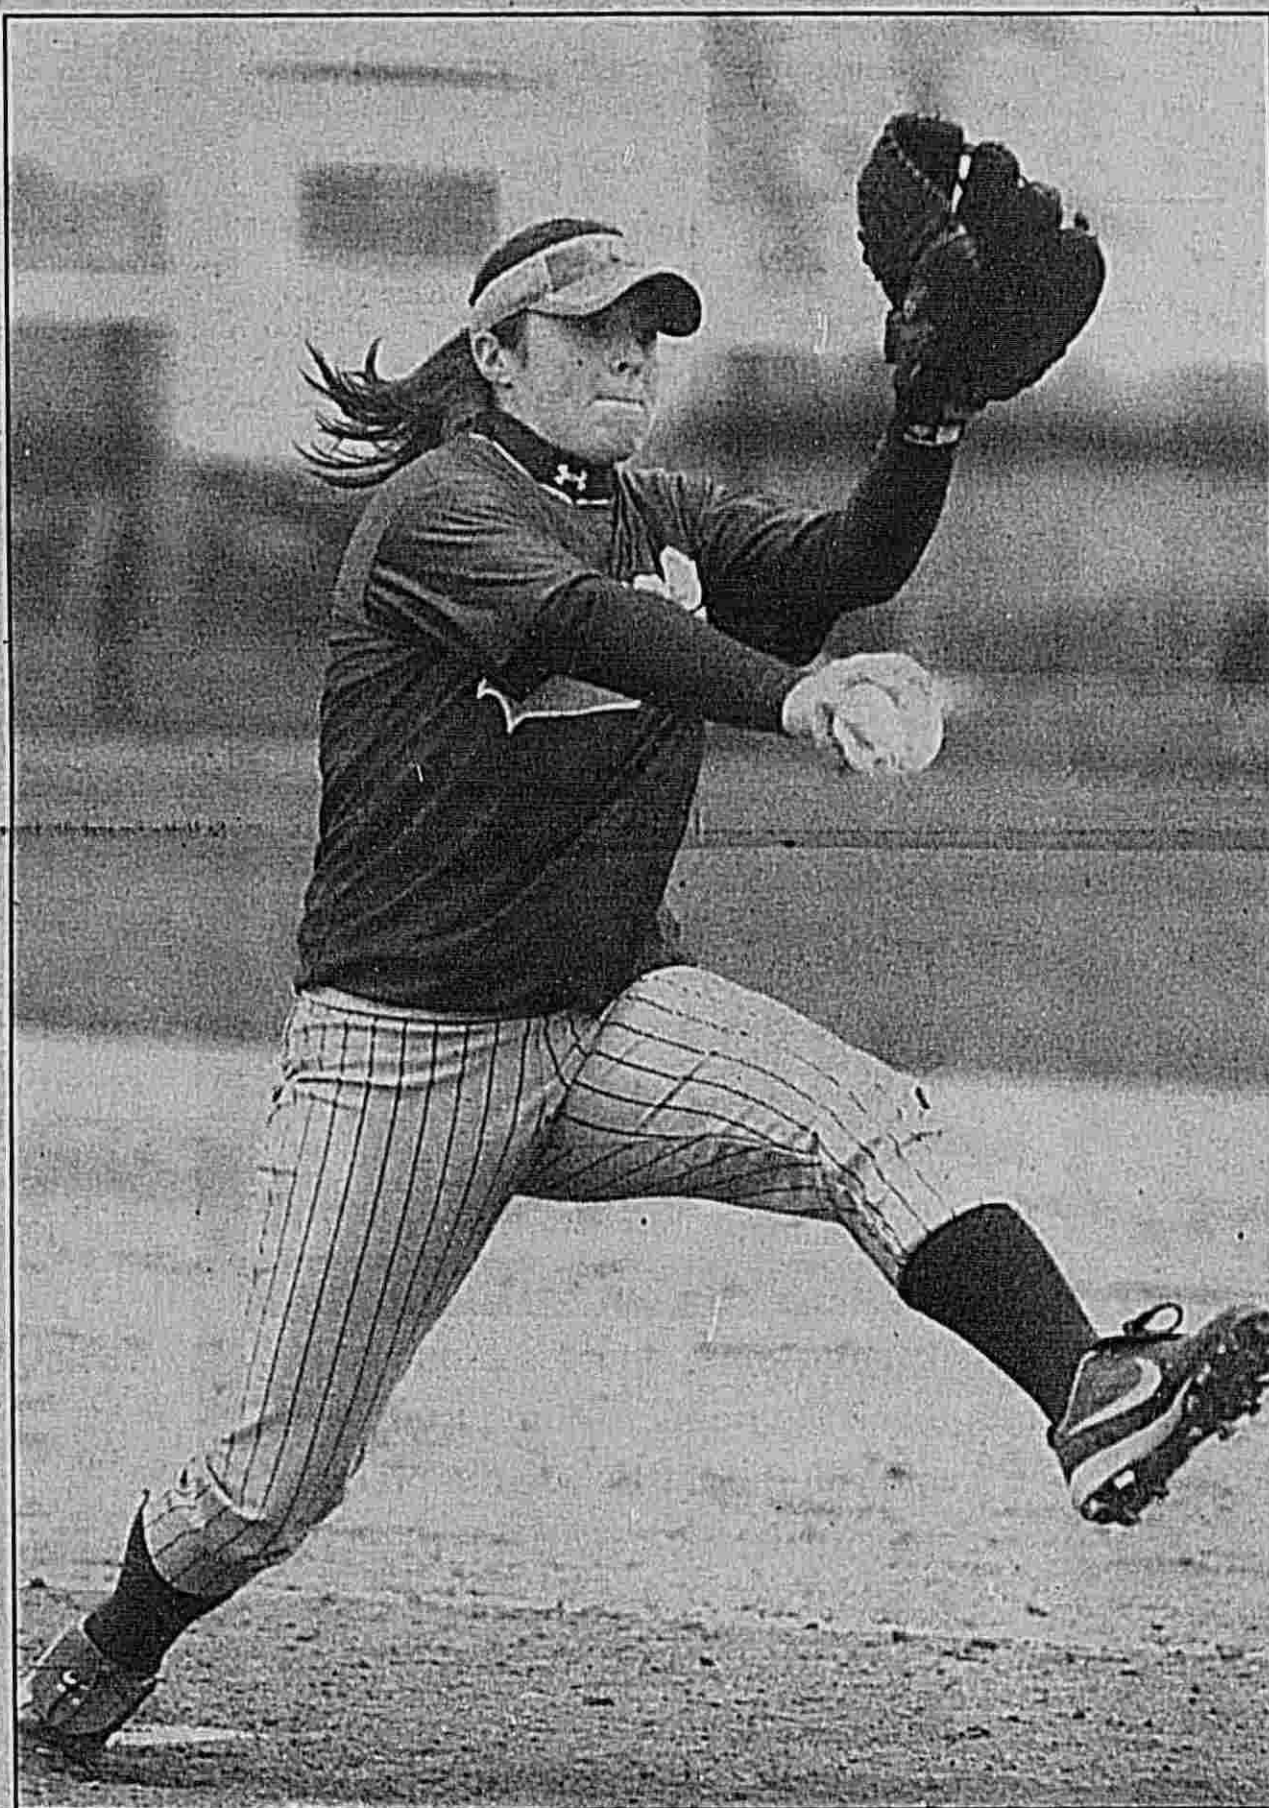

After flourishing as a player at Mundelein in the Mid-'90s, Campbell took a few years off to dominate as a DePaul Blue Demon before returning two years ago to take over the program from former coach Ted Juske.

This year may have been the toughest yet for Campbell, who lost her No. 1 pitcher to an arm injury earlier in the season, forcing her to rely on a freshman for the bulk of the team's innings.

But it didn't matter. Mundelein's 27-10 campaign this year gives Campbell three straight 20-win seasons. She has also won two straight regional titles.

LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Player of the Year

Jaclyn Aspinall, P, Sr.
Vernon Hills

After going through an apprenticeship of sorts last year under All-Area pitcher Kim Rymer, it was time for Vernon Hills senior hurler Jaclyn Aspinall to become the master.

"She's pitched every year for us," Vernon Hills coach Greg Stilling said. "But this was her first year as a No. 1 pitcher."

Statistically, you couldn't do much better than the numbers Aspinall put up for the Cougars in 2004. She went 15-6 with a 0.63 ERA and 159 strikeouts against just 29 walks in 114 innings. Opponents hit just .117 against her.

"She would throw fastballs to get ahead of hitters and then just punch them out with her rise ball," said Stilling, whose team finished 19-13 on the season.

There were times when Aspinall was literally unhittable, as evidenced by the four no-hitters and three one-hitters she put up on the season.

"There were a lot of games when the opponents didn't even have a chance," Stilling said. "Really all we needed were Jaclyn and our catcher (Katie Unterfenger)."

Aspinall also helped her own cause from time to time, netting 22 hits, 10 runs scored and 11 RBI in the No. 2 spot for the Cougars. She also led the team in sacrifices.

"She was a team captain and a huge part of our leadership," Stilling said. "The girls looked to her because she had the most experience."

Rob Backus, Steve Peterson and John Phelps contributed to this report. Photos taken by Sandy Bressner.

2nd Runner-Up

Emily Tkaczyk, P/OF, Sr.
Mundelein

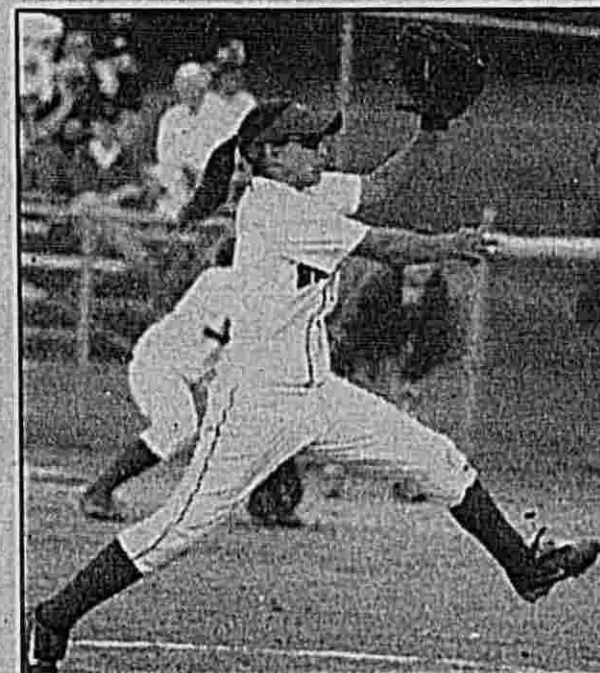

With Rachel Cleaveland gone and pitching for Ball State, this was Emily Tkaczyk's team to lead, both on the mound and at the plate.

Hitting at the top of the order, Tkaczyk hit .390 with a .530 on-base percentage. She also had 42 runs scored, 10 RBI and went 24-for-26 in steals to give the Mustangs a catalyst in the leadoff spot.

"Emily picked it up a lot offensively this year," Mundelein coach Toni Campbell said. "She did a good job getting on base and was in scoring position a lot."

She didn't do a bad job on the mound either. Despite suffering a mid-season arm injury, Tkaczyk still went 13-4 with a 1.85 ERA and 80 strikeouts in 95 innings.

Rookie of the Year

Lauren Ott, P, Fr.
Mundelein

What is it with Mundelein's ability to find a dominating starting pitcher year after year?

The Mustangs had the dynamic duo of Rachel Cleaveland and Emily Tkaczyk to toe the rubber last year. This year it was Tkaczyk and freshman Lauren Ott leading the way to Mundelein.

Heck, statistically, it was Ott that paved the way for Mundelein's 27-10 season.

Ott went 14-6 with a 0.81 ERA and 132 strikeouts in 147 innings pitched.

"When you talk about All-State pitchers, Lauren definitely has that potential," Campbell said. "If she decides to make that her goal, there's no reason why that can't happen."

The famous commencement song resonated from Antioch to Evanston as thousands of Lake County residents moved on to the next stage of their lives.

Whether going on to college, the military or to a full-time job, graduates fondly reminisced about their first days as a ninth-grader and every milestone in between. Each one of them looking forward to the future.

Father's day is just another adventure

When my four brothers and I were growing up—no matter what happened—my dad would always say, "It's just another adventure." And lots of time, if not all of the time, Dad was the cause of the adventure.

Take the time we went to "Yahoo" (the name we gave to the 20 acres Dad bought out near Harvard. Dad was so happy to close the deal he kept yelling Yahoo, Yahoo!) Anyway, the following winter Dad decided to take a drive across the property, not withstanding the big snow on the ground, and all the while Mom yelling, "No No! We'll get stuck!"

Of course we got stuck and some old farmer with a tractor had to tow us out, while Dad kept reassuring us, as we stood there and froze, that it was just another adventure.

Our property adjoined acreage with lots of beautiful mature pine trees, which my dad almost destroyed one spring when he threw down a cigarette butt. The ground and grass were wet from the melted snow and there was no way it should have caught fire and spread like crazy—but it did. And Dad yelled to me through the wind-blown flames, as I fought to beat out the fire, "It's just another adventure."

About 25 firemen came and helped us put out the fire. Dad was so happy that he gave them $100 and told them to have a party. He didn't tell them that it was our grocery money. We ate pinto beans for two weeks, fully understanding that it was just another adventure.

And believe me, eating pinto beans for two weeks straight is definitely an adventure you don't want to go through.

Dad never missed any sporting event that my brothers or myself took part in, no matter how bad the weather or how treacherous the roads. Whether we won or lost, it was just another adventure.

Dad worked all the overtime he could get to support us five kids, but mom never seemed to feel sorry for him. Maybe it was because he left for work with his bowling bag in one hand and the minnow bucket in the other. To him, work was just another adventure.

My favorite memory is the time I backed up his new car into another vehicle. I was sure glad when he said, "Don't worry, it's just another adventure," as he paid the poor victim.

In conclusion I just want to say Happy Fathers Day to dads everywhere—especially mine. Dad, you are the greatest, and life is truly one great adventure!

FROM A TO ZACHARY

Sleeping Beauty takes stage

By CORINNE REYNOLDS
creynolds@lakelandmedia.com

No matter how old or young, we've all heard the story of "Sleeping Beauty." But surely not this version, in which the beauty and her prince hold a wedding and real-life reception complete with cake for the guests.

Barrington Youth Dance Ensemble will present its innovative adaptation of Sleeping Beauty on Friday, June 18 at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, June 19 at 2 p.m. in the auditorium at Barrington High School.

This version of the story starts when Princess Aurora (Sleeping Beauty) is young and follows her all the way through the evil stepmother, casting of the spell and finally, wedded bliss.

Over 100-area youths are involved in the production along with international guest artists Guillermo Leyva, of Chicago, and Carly Czach, from Palatine.

Some better-known events in the popular tale are abbreviated, with a focus on the scenes that go beyond the traditional story. In another twist, various popular story-tale characters, such as Little Red Riding Hood, attend

Princess Aurora's wedding.

Following the Saturday matinee wedding is a real live wedding reception for the prince and princess, which is also a fundraiser for the Barrington Youth Dance Ensemble. It will be held at the home of Marian and Jasper Sanfilippo, which is known as Edel Palais, from 4-6 p.m. The home's highlight is a spectacular hand-painted European salon carousel (life-size) and a world-renowned collection of calliopes and other musical instruments.

Kids will be able to mingle with their favorite characters, and wedding cake and beverages will be served. A $15 donation, per person, is required to attend the reception.

Jessica Gumowski, BYDE executive director said, of the home, "You can't even describe the space. It's a wonderful opportunity."

Tickets for "Sleeping Beauty" and Aurora's Wedding Reception are now on sale at the Barrington Dance Academy, 758 W. Northwest Highway. Tickets for the show are $12 for children, students and seniors; $15 for adults and $18 for preferred seating at the door.

For more information on "Sleeping Beauty" and BYDE, call 847-382-6333.

Parent's last rites

Parents know wrapping up the school year means working like a dog so your kids can enjoy the dog days of summer.

Just when mom and dad feel like chucking Johnny's school calendar, along comes that final frenzy of class parties, field days, and awards banquets. And every one of them needs Rice Krispy Treats, extra hands, or tasteful table decorations crafted out of toilet paper tubes.

So Dad and I were already on edge at our daughter's spring concert last week. As the third graders lurched through "This Old Man" on their "Flutophones," my old man's nerves unraveled. But Dad hung in there like a trooper, because he wanted "to see the music director snap first."

Anyway, I view pain as a source of inspiration, especially when I'm listening to "London Bridges" fall flat on a high note. I started pondering why our kids get all the "high fives" at the end of the school year. Don't parents deserve some of the customary hoopla for their efforts behind the scenes?

A suggested salute to VIP's (Virtually Incoherent Parents):

"Cup and Gown" Processional: Weary parents file in wearing bathrobes and carrying coffee mugs with the school logo. School band "lip syncs" to recording of "Pomp and Circumstance."

Awards Presentation: School custodian—who parents bump into most while they work odd hours during the school year—hands out awards.

The Gilded Globe: Presented to Maria Trzaska, Christina Halk, and Holly Madden for cornering the market on goldfish and bowls to use as centerpiece for St. Anne's eighth grade banquet.

The Thinker Statuette: Goes to field trip chaperone Abel Waiter for 20 hours of guarding public restroom doors while students use the facilities.

Most Improved Plaque: Given to Willy Makeit in appreciation of valiant service as a playground aide. (Run video of award being presented to him in his hospital bed.)

Best Effort Certificate: Goes to Jess Shootme for singlehandedly cutting and pasting 1,000 yearbook photos. (Be sure to announce the fund-raiser for Jess's skin grafts.)

Video Memories: Finally, parents obtain closure by viewing highlights of the year on video—like Mom, Ginny, being rolled out on a gurney after mistakenly sampling a class project. Or Dad, Pete, as a chaperone "Mummy" at the high school Halloween dance—hogtied to a student's desk with his own wrappings.

Closing Announcements: Be sure to wish all parents a great summer!

Bell pepper, beans and tuna dish a simple, likable Italian triumph

Tom Witom
COOKING
BY THE BOOK

When it comes to cooking, simplicity is good. To paraphrase cookbook author Suzanne Dunaway, "it's as clear as grappa."

Over and over again Dunaway stresses the less-is-more approach in her fine new book, "Rome, at Home" (Broadway Books, 2004). She captures the heart and soul of Italian cookery, particularly Rome, where she lived for some 10 years.

From the outset, the author covers the basic ingredients of la cucina romana, from anchovies to zucchini, and she delves into techniques of food preparation. Her recipes, from various antipasti to pasta and risotto, never veer from the guiding principle of simplicity.

Peperoni con Fagioli e Tonno (Sweet Bell Peppers with Beans and Tuna) is adapted for the home kitchen and makes a delightful Sunday night supper.

Peperoni con Fagioli e Tonno

1 lb. dried cannellini, pinto beans or 1-1/2 lbs. fresh, shelled cranberry beans
1 small onion, chopped fine
1 small fresh rosemary sprig
1 cup white wine or beer
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup extra virgin olive oil

A few fresh sage leaves
1 small sweet onion, chopped fine
2 garlic cloves, minced
1 small dried hot red pepper, crushed
3 red or yellow bell peppers
2 Tbl. minced fresh ground pepper
12 oz. tuna packed in olive oil, drained

Cover dried beans with cold water and bring to a boil. • Immediately turn off the heat and let them cool. • Throw out the water, add the first onion and rosemary to the beans, cover them again with cold water and the wine, and bring to a boil. • Cover fresh beans with cold water and continue. • Simmer dried beans for 1 to 1-1/2 hours, fresh beans for 30 to 45 minutes, until tender, adding a cup or two of white wine, beer or water as needed. • Add the salt about halfway through the cooking time. • When the beans are tender, heat 1/4 cup of the olive oil in a small pan, add the sage leaves and cook until crisp. • Remove them, add the second onion to the olive oil and cook over medium heat until translucent, 3 or 4 minutes. • Add the garlic and hot pepper and cook for a minute or two longer. • Add the contents of the pan along with the sage leaves to the beans and stir well. • Cut the peppers in half and remove all seeds and white membranes. • Flatten and grill them under a broiler or roast them over a gas flame on the stove or on a barbecue grill. • When the skin is charred, transfer them to a plate and throw a damp dish towel over them to make them sweat a little, then slip off the blackened skin. • Cut the peppers into 3/4-in. strips. • Heat the remaining 1/4 cup olive oil in a skillet and saute the peppers over medium heat for 6 to 7 minutes until crisp around the edges. • Serve the beans and peppers side by side in a wide, flat dish, sprinkled with parsley and pepper and topped with chunks of tuna.

[Serves 4]

Who knew that the electric waffle-cone maker tossed in the yard-sale box would become the new favorite kitchen toy?

A friend and great cook spied it in the soon-to-be-gone box and shrieked in horror. "You can't get rid of that!" she said.

"Why not?"

Turns out after somebody gave her one that makes the gonzo-size cones that would hold a pint of ice cream, she got tired of moving it every time she had to pull something out of her kitchen cabinet. So, she put it on her countertop and started thinking about alternative ways to use it.

"I eighty-sixed the sugar and started experimenting with savorys — bacon, sharp Cheddar and horseradish, and started using them as containers to serve salads, side dishes, entrees, anything I could think of."

She said that not only are they great for adult buffets and sit-down dinner parties, kids love the novelty of them — enough to eat the veggies she serves from cones.

Some of her savory combos include Parmesan and pesto; sun-dried tomato, feta and minced basil; and salsa and green chilies.

She lets the intended filling dictate the savorys she throws into the waffle-cone batter. When she wants to use them for desserts, she flavors them with a compatible flavor — amaretto, eggnog, cranberry-orange — and stuffs them with sorbets, layered fruit parfaits and mousse.

She is even considering buying a version that makes tiny cones she can fill with hors d'oeuvres or samples of different desserts.

Strawberry jamboree tent spreads festival fun

Guaranteed to enhance a berry wonderful weekend, a new attraction has been added to the upcoming Strawberry Fest scheduled for Friday, June 25-27. Hours are 10 a.m.-6 p.m. daily, and admission is free.

Each day of the fest a Strawberry Jamboree Tent in Fountain Square will be the site of ongoing activities and contests for all ages. From 11 a.m.-1 p.m. kids and adults are invited to bring homemade cakes or cookies on a plate or in a pan, no larger than 10 inches by 13 inches, to the Jamboree Tent. Entries, $1 each, will be judged on appearance, originality, and "strawberry appeal." There will be no tastings. Prizes, donated by Long Grove merchants, will be awarded at 3 p.m. each day.

Sign up for $1 from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. for the Red Hat Ladies "Best Attitude" Contest. A Parade of Hats will kick off at 2 p.m. each day and chapeaux will be judged for flamboyance and uniqueness. Festivalgoers can also enter a Strawberry Decorated Hat Contest. All types of hats are welcome. Originality and strawberry related creativity will determine "Best of Show." Prizes will be awarded at 3:30 p.m. each day. The Strawberry Jamboree Tent will also house a Kids' Activity Corner where children can decorate their own caps or visors. The cost is $1 and includes all materials.

The Long Grove Strawberry Fest will offer a wide variety of strawberry treats at restaurants and outdoor food booths, free entertainment, and a classic car show on Saturday and Sunday. For more information, call 847-634-0888 or go to www.longgroveonline.com.

Anne Harris

AIM presents Anne Harris

The Adler Institute of Music within the David Adler Cultural Center located in Libertyville welcomes Anne Harris on Sunday, June 27, at 3 p.m.

The same words keep coming up. Energy. Spirit. Vibe. Fans describing vocalist/fiddler/songwriter Anne Harris, performances often speak as much about what they feel as what they hear or see. Something's being delivered that transcends the physical senses and resonates inside the listener. If that's so, it's consistent with Anne's philosophy. "Music is a mysterious energy," she says. "It has the power to effect change. With positive intent, it can raise our vibrations, stir emotions, heal us. I have a real reverence for the power of music." Watching her perform, one can clearly see and feel how much she loves what she does. Her passion is evident and contagious as she continuously moves and shimmers with the sounds she and her band are creating.

On her much-anticipated 2003 release, "Open Your Doors," Anne picks up where she left off and takes it up a notch with a stellar collection of songs that weave their way through varied musical terrain. Chicago Arts & Entertainment said, "Open Your Doors is bright and buoyant. The lyrics are hopeful and celebratory. The instrumentalizations are infectiously danceable. A first-class vocalist and performer who just happens to be a soulful fiddle player, Harris has that rare ability to press her charisma into the grooves of the disc so it can pour out of the stereo."

Sondheim's 'Anyone Can Whistle' remains a problematic farce

Steven Marzolf and Charissa Armon in a scene from Stephen Sondheim's "Anyone Can Whistle" presented by Pegasus Players at Truman College, Chicago.

CRITIC'S CHOICE By TOM WITOM

Stephen Sondheim is renowned for writing the lyrics and score to such shows as "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," "Company," "Follies," "Sweeney Todd" and many others.

Less well known is "Anyone Can Whistle," an offbeat musical farce that Sondheim created in 1964. It flopped on Broadway, closing after only nine performances. That show, based on a book by Arthur Laurents, went on to receive a successful run in 1989 when performed in Chicago by Pegasus Players, and now—in an updated version—it's back in town for another go.

Gareth Hendee directs a 19-member

Pegasus cast plus an onstage six-member band.

Pegasus has an affinity for Sondheim's work, and this staging marks its 13th Sondheim production. But despite the revisions, "Anyone Can Whistle" remains a problematic work and tough sell.

The plot is thin and contrived, and the choreography dated. But it features some notable Sondheim songs—"Anyone Can Whistle," "Everyone Says Don't" and "There Won't Be Trumpets." The question is whether that's enough to captivate audiences?

Here's the story in a nutshell: a small American town is financially distressed, the victim of its sole factory whose products were made so well that they never wore out. A corrupt city council, led by colorful Mayor Cora

On Stage

Hoover Hooper, aims to lure lucrative tourist traffic by staging a phony miracle. Pilgrims flock to see a "miraculous" spring flowing from a pile of rocks.

Trouble occurs when residents of a local insane asylum, the Cookie Jar, mix with the crowd lined up to take the "miracle cure." Local authorities, fearful of exposure, try to round up the insane from the sane, but find it's no easy task. New arrival Hapgood, who is mistaken for a doctor, tries to alleviate the confusion, separating everyone into Group A or Group One, but that only compounds the confusion. (Get it? Everyone's a little crazy.)

Another stranger shows up, The Lady from Lourdes (The Cookie Jar's head nurse, Fay, in disguise), discovers a hidden pump, the true source behind the flowing water. Cora and her aides are revealed as frauds and Hapgood, Fay and their charges depart for another nearby town boasting of its own miracle involving a warm heart in a marble statue. In between, there's a romantic subplot.

Probably the best thing going for this "Anyone Can Whistle" are its lead performers and pleasant vocalists: Steven Marzolf as Hapgood, a "practicing" idealist and Charissa Armon as the comely and dedicated Nurse Fay. Claire Wilmoth overplays the brash, bossy mayor, and is joined by her aides-de-camp Aaron Graham as Schub; Vincent Lonegran as Cooley; and Nich Radcliffe as MacGruder.

About the Lake County Forest Preserves

The Lake County Forest Preserves manages 24,955 acres of land and offers innovative educational, recreational and cultural opportunities for all ages. Visitors enjoy nearly 112 miles of trail for a variety of outdoor recreation uses, fishing ponds and lakes, public access to the Fox River, award-winning nature and history education programs and events, and four public golf courses. Facilities of special interest include Independence Grove near Libertyville, Ryerson Conservation Area near Deerfield, Lake County Discovery Museum near Wauconda, Greenbelt Cultural Center near Waukegan, and Thunderhawk Golf Club near Beach Park.

Weekend warriors needed

Give back to the environment as a Weekend Warrior for Nature and enjoy camaraderie with other dedicated volunteers. If you are interested in volunteering and doing hands-on work to save some of Lake County's natural areas, grab some work gloves and get involved.

Forest Preserve conservation volunteers assist with the removal of exotic plants that choke native species. No prior experience is necessary and all ages are invited. Groups of four or more should call ahead to 847-968-3329 so that Forest Preserve staff can make certain there will be enough equipment for everyone. Volunteers should dress for the weather, wear long pants and sturdy shoes or boots, and bring work gloves.

Call 847-968-3329 or via e-mail Tom at tasmith@co.lake.il.us for directions to any of the workday sites, as meeting places tend to be off the beaten path.

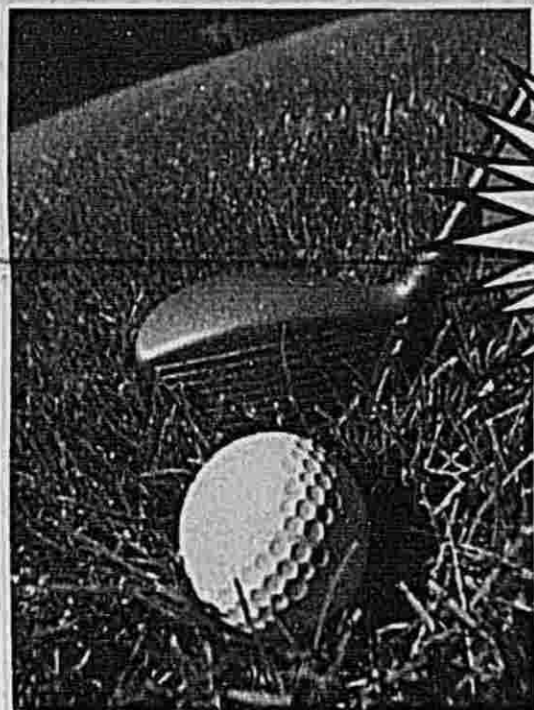

Conservation workdays will be held at these Forest Preserve locations:

• Sunday, June 19
9 a.m. Grant Woods near Fox Lake
9 a.m. Lake Bluff site
9 a.m. Old School near Libertyville

• Sunday, June 20

Experience the 'Forces of Nature' with twisters, quakes and lava

Experience trembling ground, bubbling lava and skies black with violent storms in the naturally terrifying IMAX film "Forces of Nature," opening Friday, June 18 at the Humphrey IMAX Dome Theater at the Milwaukee Public Museum.

The brand new IMAX film chronicles the work of scientists studying natural disasters in an effort to better predict catastrophes, warn populations and save lives. Peer into the heart of active volcanoes, stand in the path of deadly twisters and travel to earthquake hotspots, where hidden fault lines imperil major cities.

Tickets are $7 for adults (16-61), $6 for seniors (62 plus) and $5.50 for children (3-15). Children two and under seated on an adult's lap are free. For more information or to make reservations, call 414-319-4629 or visit the Museum's Web site, www.mpm.edu. A $1.50 service fee is charged for advance reservations.

On Montserrat, Geologist Marie Edmonds monitors the Soufriere Hills volcano with sophisticated instruments, including lasers and mirrors capable of measuring the most minimal movements in the rock. Follow Edmonds to the dangerous lip of the active volcano, where she must travel with her team to place the high-tech sensors. When the sensors show major deformation of the mountain, Edmonds knows the volcano is swelling with molten rock, threatening to send lava racing down its slopes again.

After a career studying the North Anatolian Fault beneath much of Turkey, seismologist Ross Stein developed an earthquake progression model that predicted a major earthquake would rock the nation. His warnings were to no avail as a 7.4 magnitude quake leveled entire neighborhoods in the city of Izmit in 1999, killing more than 17,000. "Forces of Nature" captures the devastation of the quake and details Stein's efforts to predict if Istanbul could be rattled next.

"Tornado Alley," stretching from North Dakota to Texas and from Nebraska to Ohio, sees some of the most destructive storms in the United States. Stormchaser Joshua Wurman believes he can better predict which storms will produce twisters by taking a radar snapshot of the heart of a storm at the moment a funnel cloud is born. Ride along with Wurman's team as they maneuver a battery of Doppler radar trucks in the face of the raging storm, capturing critical data on tornado formation.

"Forces of Nature" includes dramatic live-action shots of roaring tornadoes and flowing lava as well as computer generated images showing fault lines deep beneath the Earth's surface.

From the producers of "Lewis and Clark: Great Journey West," and "Mysteries of Egypt," "Forces of Nature" shows through Dec. 16.

'Lights Off Fridays!' program begins again at Lake County Forest Preserve facilities

Both energy consumption and ozone air-quality problems peak in summer.

In an effort to reduce peak and overall energy use in their buildings, the Lake County Forest Preserves designated Fridays, from June 4 through September 3, as "Lights off Fridays!"

"We want to do our part to conserve energy, protect the environment, and save money by turning off lights wherever and whenever feasible on Fridays throughout the summer," said Bonnie Thomson Carter, President of the Lake County Forest Preserves. "We invite other businesses in Lake County to take the Lights off Fridays challenge by joining in the effort."

The Lights off Fridays! program was initiated in 2003 by the Forest Preserves' employee-run Green Committee. It is part of an overall energy efficiency improvement plan designed to promote a healthy and 'green' environment. Last summer, an estimated 190,283 kilowatt hours were used at five Forest Preserve facilities, compared to 211,764 in 2002 before the program began. This represents an energy savings of 21,481 kilowatt hours, for a total cost savings of $994.65.

By reducing lighting in buildings, the Forest Preserves are helping to reduce ozone, save on energy costs, reduce energy needs from power plants and lessen the need for peaker plants that burn fossil fuels used to generate supplemental electricity for high-demand days.

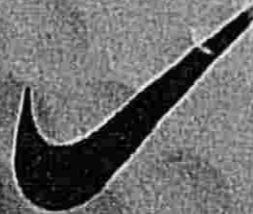

For more information about the Lake County Forest Preserves call 847-367-6640 or visit online at www.LCFPD.org.

opening this week

Around the world in 80 days: Jackie Chan is a thief who steals a valuable jade Buddha and seeks refuge by traveling with London inventor and adventurer Steve Coogan. Coogan has taken a bet with members of his gentlemen's club that he can make it around the world in 80 days, using his wit and transportation such as boats, trains, hot air balloons, elephants, etc. Set in 1872 (based upon a Jules Verne novel), that would be quite a feat. (PG)

Napoleon Dynamite: A whimsical and charming comedy about the adventures of a nerdy teen misfit, whose name is a pseudonym that was once used by the adult new wave singer, Elvis Costello. It is an almost completely satisfying portrayal of triumph over teen angst and alienation. It's the sharpest school film in ages. Stars Jon Heder and Efron Ramirez. (PG)

Tamala2010: A Punk Cat in Outer Space: A lackluster and juvenile "adult" Japanimation film. This cyberpunk cartoon has some religious overtones, but its ambitions never match its craft. A sexy new wave cat (she doesn't seem "punk" to us despite the festival capsule description) that travels in outer space to find her real mother, Tamala looks like a combination of Betty Boop and Mickey Mouse. And she uses her sex appeal to control her laid back boyfriend. (Not Rated)

Citizen of Nowhere

he can become someone else's problem. Frank eventually reaches the point of wanting to get rid of Viktor by having his guards look the other way for five minutes and he whispers in Viktor's ear that he's doing him a once in a lifetime favor. He even tells Viktor how to obtain political asylum, which seems to be a valid option to consider. By this time, Viktor's command of the English language has improved and he has begun to make friends with some of the people working at the terminal. We get to know Viktor by the way he interacts with others at the airport. Even though Frank is the "villain" in the film, all of the characters are inherently good-natured and caring.

Viktor struggles with getting by in the airport because he does not have much money and speaks very little English. He improvises by hustling carts for the .25 cent refund, which permits him to eat at the fast food court. He buys two Fodor's travel guides of NYC, one in English and the other in his native language, and comparing the two, he's able to pick up on key words to take him past the practiced phrases he planned to use to accomplish his mission in NYC.

Amelia (Catherine Zeta-Jones, in a beautiful, toned down persona) is a flight attendant, with her own vulnerabilities and trapped in a confining relationship, though the world is literally open to her. She's accustomed to hearing pick up lines faster than the international jets she flies, and is attracted to Viktor because he's such a gentleman.

Chi McBride (a Chicago actor, familiar from TV's "Boston Public") and Kumar Pallana (an 85-year-old actor born in India, and last seen in "Duplex") are two of the strong supporting cast. They lend helping hands to Viktor with humor and humanity, and a few zingers thrown in, which is what life's all about. When Viktor becomes a matchmaker between two terminal employees, Diego Luna ("Y Tu Mama Tambien") and lovely Zoe Saldana ("Pirates of the Caribbean"), ethnic similarities start to come together in a very real sense. People have many more things in common than they do differences.

Spielberg is a master at taking what appears to be a limited story line in a confined setting (e.g., "Jaws," "Duel") and he gets you deeply involved. This is another Spielberg notch in a list of many excellent films that go to the heart of the matter.

Pam's Take: What a perfect ending!

George's Take: This film speaks to the issue of integrity and the importance of promises kept.

Twilight Jazz returns to the outdoors

"Twilight Jazz" returns to the Anderson Arts Center, 121 66th Street in Kenosha on Tuesday, June 29. The outdoor patio performance is sponsored by AM Community Credit Union. The performance by the Pat Odell Group will be presented from 7-9 p.m. Admission is free... just remember to bring your own lawn chair. In case of inclement weather, the performance will be moved indoors.

Patrick (Pat) Odell has 36 years of experience performing and teaching jazz and classical music. Pat began playing saxophone at age 9, added flute at age 12, later adding clarinet and several other instruments. Pat was introduced to jazz in seventh grade. Pat has performed with school jazz and classical ensembles and freelanced with such groups as The Columbia Space Shuttle Big Band, Random Access, and others. Pat is a regular performer with the Milwaukee big band Swing Nouveau.

The Pat Odell Group consists of Pat on sax and flute, Dave Eberhardt on bass, Dave Sturino on keyboards, Mick Heberling on drums and various guest artists.

The Pat Odell Group performs a variety of styles in the jazz genre but the focus of the music is bebop blues with a heavy soul influence (Cannonball Adderley, Horace Silver, Lee Morgan, Art Blakey). Jazz fusion (a la Miles Davis and Weather Report) is also evident in the group's delivery as well.

Upcoming performances in the 2004 Twilight Jazz series at the Anderson Arts Center are:

Wanted

WANTED: Fair Queens

In keeping with the western theme of this year's Lake County Fair which begins July 27, "Wanted" posters reflecting the search for Miss, Junior Miss and Little Miss Lake County Fair Queens are stationed around the County. Prior to this year, it was required that contestants carry the title of a community queen in order to qualify for the Fair's Pageant. The Fair decided to align itself with the 65 other County Fair pageants in the State and drop that requirement. The limit for Miss entries is set at 100 and the Junior and Little Miss category limits set at 50 each.

The prize package for the Miss Lake County Fair Queen offers the 2004 Queen a total of $3K in cash as well as a generous clothing allowance and plenty of prizes. The Lake County Fair is participating in that award with a $2K prize and the Pageant's Royal Sponsor, Ray Chevrolet of Fox Lake and Raymond Chevrolet-Oldsmobile of Antioch is offering $1K. The First Runner-Up to the Miss Lake County Fair Queen will receive $500 from Studio 21 Hair and Day Spa in Gurnee. As part of the competition experience, the Miss contestants attend a Pageant Workshop and receive tips on professional interview skills, effective speeches and presentation of self.

The Fair is in need of three Queens: a Miss (ages 16 through 21), a Junior Miss (ages 11 through 13), and a Little Miss (ages 6 through 8). The young ladies act as Fair hostesses—by greeting over 200,000 visitors, granting radio and newspaper interviews, awarding ribbons and trophies at various competitive events and assisting at the renowned Live Animal Auction. In addition to her duties during Fair Week, Lake County designates the Miss Lake County Fair Queen as their representative at the Miss Illinois County Fair Queen contest in Springfield each January where more than 65 young women from counties all over the State vie for the chance to reign over the Illinois State Fair.

Further information and applications are available on the Lake County Fair's website, www.lcfair.net, and at the Lake County Fair Office at Routes 120 and 45. Questions can be answered by calling 847-356-5914. The deadline for applications is June 25.

Second annual LaCASA 'Women Helping Women' event set

Polly Poskin, executive director of the Illinois Coalition Against Sexual Assault (ICASA) will be the featured speaker at LaCASA's 2nd annual 'Women Helping Women' fundraiser luncheon on Friday, June 25.

Continuing its tradition of hosting breakthrough public events that accelerate positive change in the way, women are viewed and empowered, The Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA) proudly announces that this year's Women Helping Women fundraiser luncheon will feature a dramatic program entitled "25 Years of Progress in Fighting Sexual Assault ... and Society's Challenge."

Set to begin at noon on Friday, June 25 at the LaCASA/Zacharias Center at 4275 Old Grand Avenue in Gurnee, the second annual "Women Helping Women" event will feature an address by Polly Poskin, Executive Director of the Illinois Coalition Against Sexual Assault. Ms. Poskin, who has served as ICASA's inspirational leader for more than two decades, will address the dramatic shift in America's perceptions and response to sexual assault over the past 25 years. In addition, she will provide a true perspective on the challenges that our society still faces in the battle against rape and incest.

Prior to Ms. Poskin's talk, attendees will hear from a teen age survivor of sexual assault who, for the first time, will speak publicly about her horrendous experiences and road to healing—with the help of LaCASA's staff and volunteer advocates. In addition to the presentation by Ms. Poskin and Survivor statements, the luncheon will feature building tours, a gourmet box lunch, silent auction and live music.

"We are honored and inspired to be joined by a trail-blazing leader like Polly Poskin, who has been integrally involved in setting policy in the fight against rape and incest throughout the state of Illinois and the entire nation," said event co-chair Leslie Kischer. "Along with a comprehensive overview of the progress we've achieved in this national movement, attendees will also hear personal accounts of bravery and healing from sexual assault survivors."

"Our goal with this event is to inspire women to take action for a cause that impacts their lives," said event co-chair Nan Streicker. "While organizations like ICASA and LaCASA have helped society achieve significant gains in the fight against sexual assault over the past 25 years, there is still much to be achieved through female solidarity and women looking out for each other. That's why these events mean so much."

The event is sponsored by Lincolnshire, IL-based Hewitt Associates, a global HR outsourcing and consulting firm.

Please call David Diaz at 847-244-1187 ext. 21 to reserve your spot, and consider bringing a friend or group to take part in this important event. Donations are now being accepted for items for the Women Helping Women silent auction. Businesses and individuals interested in donating products, gift certificates and other items are urged to contact LaCASA.

Making a difference

Celebrating the outstanding achievement of women in Illinois, State Treasurer Judy Baar Topinka, together with the Treasurer's Women's Advisory Board sponsored the Third annual 2004 Woman to Woman: Making a Difference Awards Ceremony on Monday, May 10, 2004 at Blue Cross/Blue Shield, 300 W. Randolph Street in Chicago. Blue Cross/Blue Shield hosted the event. Topinka (left) congratulated Suzanne Hoban on receiving her Healthcare Trailblazers Award. While working with refugees in Chicago, she founded the Family Healthcare Partnership. The clinic now serves almost 500 patients per month with 19 volunteer physicians. The clinic receives almost no government funding, and relies on the community to help support those who have no other options for healthcare. Suzanne's dedication to the population of the uninsured has been an inspiration to her community. She was nominated by: State Representative Rosemary Kurtz. Recipient's of the Woman to Woman Making A Difference Award were selected by a committee of the Treasurer's Women's Advisory Board. The criteria for nomination included leadership skills, raising social conscience, promoting diversity, establishing opportunities for selfimprovement, promoting positive inter-group relations, and establishing new or innovative programs.—

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

Risk-taking is not on the agenda this week, Aries. Walk the straight and narrow path, and you'll find that things will go much more smoothly. Expect Scorpio to pose a concern.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

A friend comes to you with a serious problem, Libra. In your current state you are by no means ready to offer solid advice. Guide this person to someone who can help for now.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

See that new project through, Taurus. Don't give up now that things have just begun. If you're feeling overwhelmed, seek the assistance of a family member who wants to help.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Your ego has gotten in the way again, Scorpio, but you can redeem yourself. That charitable act you've been pondering could be the perfect way to showcase your sweet side.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

Your funk is over, and you have found a new outlook on life. This week should be a breeze for you, Gemini, with particularly good news arriving on Friday.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Trouble at home escalates by Wednesday, Sagittarius. You've made a mountain out of a molehill. Change your strategy and you could find a quick resolution.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

Bad news finds you on Tuesday, Cancer. While it may be a blow, you'll survive the turmoil. Keep your chin up — better things will come your way next week.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

No one is being fooled by your sincerity act, Capricorn. They're all on to your hidden agenda. Don't try to deny your motives — it will only make things worse in the end.

LEO - July 23/August 23

The world is still offering you lessons, but you've tuned out. Get those ears working again and accept the things that you must change about yourself.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

You are not scoring well in the love department, Aquarius. Fawning over your partner has only been giving you the reputation of a pushover. Define what you want, and go for it.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

Flirtation gives rise to passion by Thursday, Virgo. You're showing off your wild side and loving every minute of it. Those close to you might become concerned.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

Financial success is imminent this week, Pisces. Just be sure to share your wealth with someone deserving. It will make it much more rewarding.

SISTERS HELPING SISTERS

Sisters Approaching Third Anniversary of Home Instead Senior Care

Sisters Jenny and Rose are celebrating with Cindy Madson and Denise Trinka, the anniversary of opening a franchise of Home Instead Senior Care. Home Instead Senior Care helps Jenny and Rose stay independent by providing help around their home and driving them their appointments. Sisters Cindy and Denise, inspired by their own experience with their own mother, opened Home Instead Senior Care in Grayslake on September 1, 2001. Their mother's health was failing; she could no longer do routine tasks. She just needed a little help with housekeeping, fixing a meal and most of all some companionship. The sisters tried to find help to no avail and decided "There must be a way of helping people in this situation." Their concern for the growing need of the elderly in Lake County set their mission which ended when they found Home Instead Senior Care.

The purpose of Home Instead Senior Care is to help the elderly stay in their home longer by providing over 75 different non-medical services including companionship, meal preparation, light housekeeping, laundry, errands and incidental transportation.

By the third anniversary Home Instead Senior Care, which is licensed by the State of Illinois, bonded and insured has proudly served over 200 clients and employed 140+ caregivers.

The sisters are passionate about helping relieve the stress associated with caring for their parents' along with assisting seniors to remain in their homes - where they are happiest. Recent studies have proven the elderly live 5 to 7 years longer if they can remain in their homes. Cindy and Denise meet with each and every client personally to get to know them and their needs. The sisters have made a positive impact on the lives of their clients and their families. For more information please call Home Instead Senior Care at 847-543-8881.

Walgreens to help Lake County seniors improve their health

Walgreens, the nation's largest pharmacy chain, will have health care representatives and pharmacists at the Lake County Forest Preserves' 2004 Seniors Day to offer free product samples and showcase several company services.

Seniors who have questions about prescriptions can talk to pharmacists and learn more about the company's premier pharmacy services, such as Auto Refills, multi-language prescription labels, satellite-linked transfers and Walgreens eight 24-hour pharmacies in Lake County. Other company representatives will explain pharmacy services available on Walgreens.com, including how to set up an online personal health history and how to print past and current prescription records for doctors or tax purposes. They will also illustrate medical products available online.

Seniors also can learn more about the new Medicare prescription drug discount cards and find out which one is right for them. Free brochures about Walgreens Health Initiatives Prescription discount card will be available, as well.

A respiratory therapist from Walgreens Health Initiatives (WHI) Home Care division will answer questions about smoking cessation, the importance of flu and pneumonia shots and spirometry testing. Seniors also can complete screenings to see if they are at risk for sleep apnea.

The first 3,000 attendees who arrive at the Walgreens booth will receive a free souvenir photo and a chance to learn about Walgreens new digital photo services.

Walgreen Co. is the nation's largest drugstore chain with fiscal 2003 sales of $32.5 billion. The company operates 4,397 stores in 44 states and Puerto Rico, in addition to Walgreens Health Initiatives, which provides pharmacy benefits management, mail service prescriptions and other clinical services.

Fact sheet on Walgreen Co.

Walgreen Co. reached $32.5 billion in sales during fiscal 2003 – making it the nation's largest drugstore chain and 11th largest retailer. The company operates 4,368 drugstores in 44 states and Puerto Rico.

A typical Walgreens store is 14,500 square feet, which includes 11,000 square feet of sales area, and carries more than 25,000 consumable items and necessities. Each unit employs 25 to 30 people and averages $7.4 million in annual sales. Nationwide, Walgreens drugstores serve 3.6 million customers daily.

2003 marked the company's 29th consecutive year of record sales and earnings. Fortune magazine ranks Walgreens as the 45th largest company in America.

During the past five years, 2,221 drugstores were opened – that's more than half of all existing Walgreens stores. Walgreens opened 430 drugstores during fiscal 2003, which ended Aug. 31. The company plans to open 425 stores in fiscal 2004.

More than 80 percent of the chain is freestanding and with more than 3,400 stores offer drive-thru prescription service. Also, more than 4,200 offer one-hour photofinishing and over 1,200 are open 24 hours, more than all the other drugstore chains combined. Today half of our stores are less than 5 years old.

Intercom Plus, Walgreens advanced pharmacy system, allows the pharmacist to spend more time counseling patients on their medicines. Other patient benefits include tax/insurance records and patient profiles. Where state law allows, Intercom Plus also permits "prescription transferability" – so you can get refills at Walgreens stores other than the one where you first bought your medication, even if it's in another state.

Intercom Plus, Walgreens advanced computer system, completed rollout to all stores Oct. 31, 1997. Intercom Plus speeds the prescription-filling process, permits better patient counseling and is the benchmark for pharmacy systems in our industry.

In 1999, Walgreens launched a comprehensive online pharmacy, offering customers a convenient and secure way to take care of many pharmaceutical and healthcare needs. In addition, the site provides Mayo Clinic Health Information, a trusted source in health and wellness information. In September 2000, Walgreens added non-prescription items to the site.

Through www.walgreens.com, customers can order prescription refills and non-prescription items, access their personal prescription profile and research health information provided by the Mayo Clinic.

In April 2002, Walgreens became the first drugstore chain to offer prescription labels in multiple languages chainwide. Labels can be printed in one of 14 languages.

Seniors Day Celebration 2004 5

Join the Ambassador Club for great trips

Join the Bank of Waukegan and First State Bank of Round Lake's Ambassador Club, a special club designed to meet the needs of active seniors 55 years and older.

Enjoy special services and opportunities to meet new friends, travel and be informed on subjects of interest to you - seniors.

Joining is so easy. The Bank of Waukegan and the Round Lake banks joined forces earlier this year to create a whole new 55+ Club, now also offered in the Round Lake and Waukegan areas.

Anyone who has reached the age of 55 (with spouses automatically extended membership) and who maintain a balance greater than $2,500 in anyone interest-bearing account are eligible. Look for the "Ambassadors" in bright blue shirts at Senior Day handing out freebies, or stop by any of the eight convenient branches.

Upcoming events include a trip to the Mall of America, tours of historic places, trips to casinos and riverboats, luncheons, dinners, exercise classes ... and, of course, there are some real practical bank benefits, too.

Bank of Waukegan and First State Bank are now one

First State Bank of Round Lake and Bank of Waukegan recently joined forces as commonly held banks under the Northern States Financial Corporation banner. That means the 55+ Ambassador Club, so successful at Bank of Waukegan's six Lake County locations will now be a primary feature in the Round Lake Area.

This spring, a 55+ open house was held at First State Bank's north location on Cedar Lake Road at Rollins Road. There, dozens of new members joined the fun, food, and refreshments offered to attendees. Customers of First State Bank were introduced to Mr. Fred Abdula, the CEO and President of Northern States Financial.

"What a wonderful place!" exclaimed Abdula. "I met so many wonderful people and am really looking forward to meeting even more on June 23rd in Libertyville for Seniors Day. 'I qualify, you know,' he said with smile.

2004 Senior Ambassador winner

John Koenig

I believe that I am a true Senior Ambassador for the 2004 Senior Day Celebration. Grandparents, as we know ourselves, are big-hearted citizens who nurture their children and grandchildren through every aspect of their life. Ever since I was a child, I can remember the huge influences my father had on me. From teaching me to walk, ride a bicycle, fish and later work hard at my first job, I reminisce learning many principles so quickly from my father. He was a very hard working man and represented high standards. I look back and see that I have passed that same impact onto my children and grandchildren.

With growing up in a different generation from now, it is difficult to adapt and still continue to be helpful and considerate of others. I believe that I have done this throughout my life. I continue to be a strong, family-valued member of my family.

During the holidays, our family always comes together and through letters keep in contact (like our family members in Finland). Day to day, I continue to help out at my daughter's house by cutting the grass and repairing house items. Not only do I help my family out, but I also walk every morning to keep healthy. At the Warren Township Senior Center, I attend several dinners and activities in order to build friendships with fellow seniors and to represent our age group.

Now I have another family member who I am close with. My grandson Richie is a person who will take my place later by being a good citizen. Last year, he went abroad as an exchange student to Costa Rica. He managed to learn Spanish fluently and now he proceeds to reach towards his dreams. This fall he will be attending DePaul University to study International Communications and Spanish. I always humorously state to Richie, "I've taught you everything I know, and you still know nothing" and repeatedly drill the definition of the word 'tact' into his memory, as my father did. These brief phrases show how life is a ceaseless learning process. Now, we both continue to learn more about life and each other.

Every day I look at him, I notice how fast he has grown and how far he has gone. I would love to spend some quality time with him. I would also share some thoughts about life with him.

Senior Day is on the move

After 31 years Lake County's Senior Citizen Day will be changing venues to Independence Grove in Libertyville and adding several new events and activities to its already tremendously popular routine. The event that typically draws between three and five thousand of Lake County's senior citizens will now give them even more reason to come back year after year.

The event will be held on June 23 starting at 9 am and running until 2 pm.

Though the change is only temporary, the event as a whole will be reevaluated after this year to determine whether or not the change was for the better. Regardless of where the event ends up, the number of things to do had multiplied with the location change.

"We looked at some of the programs and offerings from years past," Marketing Director of the Lake County Forest Preserve Mary Longshore said. "After some research we wanted to offer activities for active lifestyles like swimming and boating, and introduce everyone to Independence Grove."

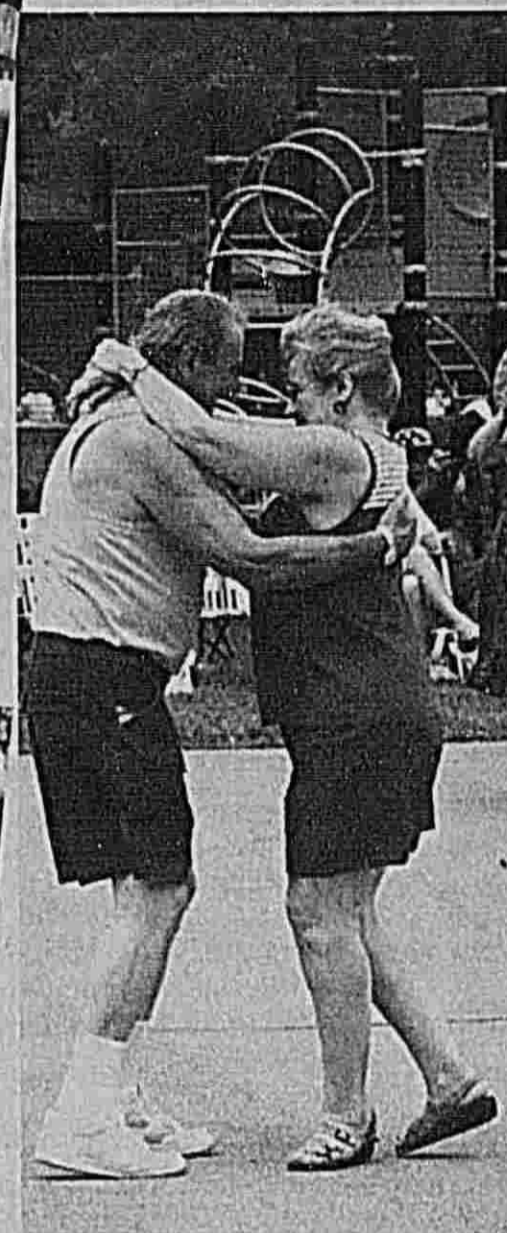

The move comes for two reasons. First and foremost, construction on Fairfield Road near Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda, where the event is normally held, could cause potential traffic problems with the thousands expected to attend. That worry, in conjunction with the opportunity for new activities are the reason for this year's change.

This year will feature new programs like swimming, pontoon boat rides, native garden tours and biking along the miles of trail for those who choose to bring their bicycle along. Another added bonus this year will be an air-conditioned building, a luxury the years past have been lacking. The air-conditioned visitor center will be home to sponsored booths and the ever-popular BINGO tables.

This year's changes only continue in the long line of progressions the senior day has made in the past 14 years. In 1970 Helen Belmont-Amendola and Matt Miholic came together and created the Senior Citizens Picnic. But in 1990, with the guidance of Larry Leafblad, private sponsors were used for funding instead of the forest preserve's budget. Since then programs, activities and prizes have all increased for those in attendance to make it a more enjoyable day for everyone.

"This is an event we all look forward to," Longshore said. "To come together and see the seniors and give back to them, it's an extremely rewarding event."

Independence Grove can be found on Buckley Rd. (Route 137) just east of Milwaukee Ave. —By Brian Janosch

Evolving nutritional needs of seniors

As we get older, not only do our bodies change, so do our nutritional needs. "People of all ages need more than 40 nutrients to stay healthy," says J.E. Anderson, Colorado State University Cooperative Extension foods and nutrition specialist and professor, food science and human nutrition. "Because no one food or pill provides all of the nutrients, we need to eat a variety of foods to get the full spectrum of nutrients," Anderson says.

Read on for some key facts and suggestions on how to improve your nutritional intake, courtesy of Colorado State University Cooperative Extension's Food and Nutrition Series by J.E. Anderson.

Changes in the aging body

As the body ages, physiological changes occur slowly over time. Sensory changes (decline in sight and peripheral vision, hearing, smell and taste) and structural changes (bone density loss, loss of lean body mass and an increase in body fat) affect one's nutritional intake. Some examples are:

- Loss of smell and taste — If food doesn't smell or taste appetizing, it won't be eaten. Try a variety of food flavors. Experiment with low sodium seasonings. Try fresh herbs and unusual spices (lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, dill, curry and herbs of all types).
- Loss of teeth — Have poorly fitting dentures adjusted. Chop, steam, stew, grind or grate hard or tough foods to make them easier to chew without sacrificing their nutritional value. Try a grated carrot and raisin salad.
- Osteoporosis — Exercise and a diet high in calcium help protect against osteoporosis. Exercise at least three times a week with activities like walking or swimming. Get two to four daily servings of dairy products.

Specific nutrient needs

- Caloric needs — Choose "nutrient-dense" foods, which are high in nutrients in relation to their calories. For example, low-fat milk is more nutrient-dense than regular milk.
- Protein needs — Don't increase protein intake as you age because it could stress kidneys.
- Fat — Reduce the overall fat content in the diet to cut calories and weight.
- Fiber — Adequate fiber helps maintain normal bowel function and decreases the risk of intestinal inflammation. Vegetables, fruits, grain products, cereals, seeds, legumes and nuts are all sources of dietary fiber.

Vitamins and minerals

Vitamin deficiencies may not be obvious in many older people. However, illness and medications also interfere with many vitamins.

- Fat-soluble vitamins — The elderly are at lower risk of fat-soluble vitamin deficiencies. Drink vitamin D-fortified milk.
- Iron/Calcium — Enhance iron absorption from non-meat sources, such as cereals or low-fat dairy products. Add vitamin C-rich fruits and vegetables like juice or salsa with a bean burrito.

• Zinc — Zinc helps prevent or slow the onset of age-related macular degeneration. Eat kale, spinach, broccoli, peas, oranges and cantaloupes.

• Vitamin E — Research has shown that eating foods with vitamin E, like whole grains, peanuts, nuts, vegetable oils and seeds, may help reduce the risk of Alzheimer's disease.

• B12 — Low levels of vitamin B12 have been associated with memory loss and linked to age-related hearing loss in older adults. Eat foods rich in vitamin B12 regularly, including meat, poultry, fish, eggs and dairy foods. Consult your doctor to see if a vitamin B12 supplement may be necessary.

Long time ambassador "queen" moves on

Marilyn Sheeler, coordinator of the Ambassador Club for Bank of Waukegan for more than 14 years is moving to Southern Illinois.

"Senior Day on June 23 will be one of my final flings," said the youthful looking Sheeler as she plans her big move. Marilyn has been coordinator of the Ambassador Club since 1990.

The Lake County Forest Preserves Senior Day on June 23 will host the Bank of Waukegan and First State Bank of Round Lake 55+ Ambassador Club members as one of the premier sponsors of the event in Libertyville at the Independence Grove Forest Preserve. Dozens of Ambassador Club members will be sporting blue shirts with the name of the club emblazoned on the front.

Marilyn was first attracted to the Bank of Waukegan in 1990, and rapidly assumed command of what now is the most active, most involved and the most successful 55+ club of its kind in the area. "It's the most fun, too," she said.

ManorCare Health Services proves to be a leader

ManorCare also offers national insurance contracts with case management to benefit our patients with case management services.

Evidence of their Rehabilitation Program Success

The average length of mobility increased from admission to discharge is 113 feet per resident.
100% of the patients state they are able to manage their care needs upon discharge.

Lake Forest Hospital opens two new facilities in 2004

Grand openings were celebrated in early 2004 at two new Lake Forest Hospital facilities — the Outpatient & Acute Care Center, which opened in Grayslake in April, and the Hunter Family Center for Women's Health, which opened in January.

Outpatient & Acute Care Center

This $39 million, 136,000-square-foot "hospital without beds" features advanced diagnostic technology, sophisticated therapy and private physicians' suites wrapped around the only acute care center in Lake County staffed with physicians who are specialists in emergency medicine. These are the same doctors—and many of the same nurses—who see duty in the Lake Forest Hospital Emergency Room. All of the physicians with office space in the Grayslake facility will be members of the hospital's medical staff.

This is Lake Forest Hospital's first acute care center, which provides walk-in medical services for non-life-threatening situations. Initially, it will be open from 7 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. seven days a week in the Grayslake facility.

The rest of the first floor offers outpatient diagnostic and treatment services between the hours of 7 a.m. and 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 7:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. Individual hours of operation may vary by department.

State-of-the-art equipment has been installed in the full-service radiology section of Lake Forest Hospital's Grayslake facility. This includes the latest in digital mammography, X-ray and fluoroscopy, CT, MRI, and nuclear medicine. The diagnostic center also includes clinical laboratory services; non-invasive cardiology services such as EKG, stress testing, cardiac monitoring and echocardiography; and audiology services.

Treatment services offered include physical, occupational and speech therapy. In addition to digital mammography, women's health services include ultrasound and bone densitometry.

The facility is located on a 44-acre parcel with room for planned future expansions that would offer additional services in its beautiful prairie setting.

Lake Forest Hospital's Outpatient & Acute Care Center is located on Route 120 just west of Route 45.

Hunter Family Center for Women's Health

This $22 million, 72,000-square-foot addition to Lake Forest Hospital allows a one-stop comprehensive health assessment for women of all ages. The services offered are holistic.

Friendly, qualified staff members care for the whole woman, from womanhood to motherhood to maturity. They advance the art of caring by using state-of-the-art technology. For example, the new breast-care center features all digital mammography for improved patient care with greater speed and efficiency. By embracing new technologies, Lake Forest Hospital moves to the forefront of breast imaging and early detection of breast cancer.

At the heart of the new facility, the Posy Krehbiel Prevention and Wellness Center captures the newest research and gathers all the right specialists to help any woman design a personal, sustainable plan for optimal well-being. It all begins with a Health and Wellness Profile, which assesses the patient's health and lifestyle. The profile also scores her wellness in terms of heart health, cancer risk, nutrition, fitness, stress and safety.

Lake Forest Hospital's Hunter Family Center for Women's Health also offers:

- Waud Family Maternity Services featuring a special-care nursery/Level II with extended capabilities, Children's Memorial Hospital pediatricians on site for assistance, all private postpartum rooms, and more comfortable facilities for new fathers' overnight stays
- An osteoporosis program
- A library and resource center
- A women's boutique for cancer patients' needs and lactation supplies
- Child-care service for women with appointments in the center

Completion of the women's health center signals the start of a $4 million renovation project in the main hospital building. This work, expected to be completed in 2005, will allow for the expansion and improvement of existing services as well as more patient privacy.

AT A GLANCE

Swimmer drowns in Crooked Lake

Lindenhurst—Several people at or near Crooked Lake in Lindenhurst saw a man, later identified as Constantin Burtia, 57, of Crooked Lake Lane, Lindenhurst, swimming near his boat at 9:25 a.m. on June 13. Before their eyes, the man sank below the water and drowned. His body was recovered about two-and-a-half hours later.

Campground closes

Gages Lake—The closure of the Gages Lake Campground this month will mean the end of an era, and the breakup of a community. Countless people from those who live at the campground year-round to visitors from across the U.S. and Europe have called the campground home during the past 38 years. Owner Joanne Smith sold the campground to Cambridge Homes, expected to break ground on a 66-unit town-home development.

Library slapped with lawsuit

Round Lake—The Round Lake Area Public Library is being sued for over $500,000 and its board president is being sued for an additional $250,000. Former library executive director Paul Deane filed the suit in District Court claiming Skinner deprived him of his right to freedom of speech when Skinner and the board fired him in February.

Flood plan revealed

Gurnee—What was pegged as a Des Plaines "aftermath meeting" for suburban communities victimized by last month's flooding, turned into a vent session for leaders frustrated with years of waiting for flood control. U.S. Rep. Phil Crane (R-Wauconda) met with representatives from various river-bordering towns. Also in attendance were representatives from national and local flood mitigation groups, who discussed projects underway, or in planning that would alleviate flood damage.

Road work begins on area highways

Road repairs began at three locations in the communities of Lake Zurich, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Beach Park and Waukegan. The work includes the patching of Routes 12, 132 and 137 and the replacing of curb and gutters to improve drainage.

Crews are working on Route 12, north westbound, north of Ela Road near the Village Square strip mall, in Lake Zurich; Route 132 westbound east of Route 83 in Lake Villa; and on Route 137 (Sheridan Road) northbound north of Montesano Avenue in Beach Park and Waukegan.

The work is being performed in the right lanes. There are intermittent lane closures in these areas for up to a month at each location. One lane will always be open in each direction. Motorists are reminded to drive carefully through these construction zones and watch for workers.

The contractor for the $82,000 project is DNB of Elmhurst.

Final hurdles for new traffic center cleared

By JEFF ZACHARY
jzachary@lakelandmedia.com

Contracts have been awarded for construction and the groundbreaking has been set for June 29 at 10 a.m. for the new Lake County Traffic Management Center in Libertyville.

Scheduled to attend the groundbreaking are Sen. Dick Durbin (D-Illinois) and U.S. Rep. Mark Kirk (R-Fort Sheridan).

"Congressman Kirk has really been a leader in this issue in helping us to attain funding and we appreciate it," said Lake County Board member Diana O'Kelly (R-Mundelein) during the Lake County Board meeting. "This is going to be a definite asset to the people of Lake County once we can get this traffic management center up and running and start coordinating the timing of lights and working with the municipalities. This is really a step to intelligent transportation and for better coordination throughout Lake County."

The Traffic Management Center will be built as an addition to the Division of Transportation offices.

Lake County had extended invitations for bid to a total of 109 contractors and received responsible and responsive bid proposals from 32 contractors before selecting eight contractors.

Awarded contracts were Rasch Construction & Engineering from Kenosha for concrete work at a cost of $139,630 and for carpentry work at a cost of $337,000.

JAC Masonry from Lake Villa—Masonry—$73,100; North Chicago Iron Works—Structural Steel—$59,340; Van's Roofing from Kenosha—Roofing—$38,900; United States Fire Protection from Lake Forest—Fire Suppression—$75,000; Martin Peterson

Company from Kenosha—Building Plumbing—$47,500; Air Con Refrigeration & Heating from Waukegan—Heating and Air conditioning—$186,600.

A total of $957,070 was awarded in contracts with the electrical work being sent out for re-bids.

Heritage farm could come to county

By JEFF ZACHARY
jzachary@lakelandmedia.com

Are farms becoming such a rarity that one needs to be preserved as a heritage farm?

This very question is being considered by members of the Lake County Board as they ponder whether to go through with plans to have such a farm located in Antioch.

At a committee of the whole meeting, the board considered the matter even though one board member, Steve Carlson expressed his skepticism of the wisdom for the project.

"I can't believe we are even considering this at this point but I am willing to go along with some of this. I think we are sending the wrong message. We just had a referendum on roads, which is the biggest problem the county has and people said they don't want to pay more taxes," Carlson said. "We are sending all kinds of bad messages even considering this at this point."

Phil Rovang, director of planning, building and development for Lake County said that there has been a Heritage Farms Task Force considering the proposal for the past two years.

"The task force's concept was that there be a living history farm created somewhere here in Lake County for the enjoyment and for improving the quality of life for our residents," Rovang said.

He added that the task force hopes to have buildings, animals and volunteers who will work together to help give the impression that the farm is from the 1940's.

Rovang said in order to get the farm started it will cost about $5 million in capital to either bring in some buildings or construct them on the site that will replicate a farm in the 1940's.

Carlson: Thinks project is sending wrong message.

"And then to operate it on a full scale in a meaningful way that can be used by schools and by other institutions it will cost about $200,000 in operating expense and it is estimated that it is unlikely that we can generate more than 20 percent of the revenue from these sources to help offset the cost of the expenses."

Rovang said other sources of funding could come from the Friends of Heritage Foundation and donations from businesses and even from taxpayers.

No final decision on going through with the heritage farm was reached at the meeting.

Sex assault charges for Allendale counselor

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
bbeitscher@lakelandmedia.com

A 39-year-old male counselor at Allendale, a therapeutic community for youth in Lake Villa, has been charged with four counts of sexual assault, involving two teenage girls who were residents at the school.

Glen L. Windom, of Gurnee, turned himself in to Lake County authorities, after a May 4 arrest warrant was issued citing three counts. An additional warrant was issued on June 3, when a second female client brought charges.

Windom was released on bond. The bond was $200,000 for the first warrant, and another $100,000 for the second warrant.

A preliminary hearing will be held on July 16, at 10:30 a.m. in courtroom 120.

Lake Villa Police Detective Richard Tippet noted that Allendale had cooperated fully with authorities, bringing the matter forth promptly when it was discovered.

Administrators at Allendale contacted police and DCFS on March 24, when a female resident complained that Windom had been acting improperly with another student.

Man linked to string of sex crimes

The Lake County Sheriff's Office arrested a 48-year-old Wauconda man on three counts of Aggravated Criminal Sexual Abuse, a Class 2 Felony. The victim of the abuse is a 12-year-old boy from the Wauconda area.

Acker

Ronald S. Acker, 48, of Karen Drive in Wauconda was arrested last week following an investigation. Sheriff's investigators learned that three separate acts were committed on one occasion in a residence located near Acker's neighborhood, according to a sheriff's office press release.

During questioning, Acker also implicated himself in several other sexual abuse cases in Wheeling, Carpentersville and Wauconda. Mr. Acker would not reveal the names of any possible victims. In light of this revelation, sheriff's investigators are seeking assistance from the public.

"Any member of the public who may have been victimized by Mr. Acker is encouraged to contact our investigators immediately," said Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re. That phone number is 847-377-4250.

Acker remains in the Lake County Jail on a $2 million bond. If convicted, Acker faces from 3-7 years for each count in the Illinois Department of Corrections.

Spiderman fans show up in thousands

By BRIAN JANOSCH
brian@lakelandmedia.com

Libertyville was no place for evil doers on Saturday as Spider-man as leagues of his smallest supporters were present at the Family Toddler Tyme Expo at the Libertyville Sports Complex.

An crowd of an estimated 4,000 people showed up, many of which came seeking an autograph and picture with America's favorite web slinger.

"We came to see Spider-man, but we didn't tell our son," Marshal Einbinder of Round Lake Beach said. We kept telling him it was a super, secret surprise...When he saw (Spiderman) he just wiggled out."

Many different area businesses were present providing even more excitement for the children. Some of the highlights included a 60-foot inflatable alligator obstacle course, main stage sing-along performances and fashion shows along with various different smaller activities at many of the booths.

"I think it's nice that all the businesses are out to promote themselves," Martha Dirschel of Fox Lake said. "This is a nice way to do it, I had never heard of a lot of them before today."

Other heralded characters in attendance were Blue, Sponge Bob and Cat in the Hat. The event brought thousands of young families out to get a taste for some of the local businesses geared towards them.

Even though the parents benefited by learning about companies they never knew about before, the day truly belong to the kids and their favorite wall crawler.

"We made the trip down from Wisconsin for Spider-man but it was definitely worth it for (my kid)," said Jeana Ace of Pleasant Prairie, Wis.

The event was the third event produced by Lakeland Media Productions, which was formed this year.

County to request grant to create drug court

By GINNY SKWERES
ginnys@lakelandmedia.com

Drug court is not a new idea, but one that Lake County has been looking at for awhile. Prosecutors want to apply for a $450,000 grant from the Federal Justice System, and plans are still in the formative stage, according to State's Attorney Michael Waller.

To qualify there's a lot of information to be gathered, and Waller would rather apply for the grant correctly, rather than quickly. However, they are ready to apply in the next grant cycle. If all goes well, the county could have the funds some time next year, Waller said.

The grant money would be a way to start up funding for a drug court. That court would be housed in the Lake County Court House in Waukegan and would probably operate one day a week in the beginning.

"We've looked at models and some of those still aren't five days a week. The majority of drug cases would still be handled the way they currently are handled," he said.

"I think a drug court can be useful as part of the efforts of dealing with the drug problem," Waller said. It can be an effective way to deal with drug users, not drug dealers. Drug courts have a higher success rate in freeing a person from his addiction, he said.

"In Lake County we make extensive use of drug treatment in our sentencing," Waller said.

In drug court, the judge is more directly involved with the individual. The individual reports directly to the judge.

"It can be very motivating to hear, 'If you slip up, I'm going to send you to jail.' You want to try to help someone with a drug problem. Most police chiefs support this idea," Waller said.

Leaders gather to discuss RTA restructure

More than 80 Lake County municipal leaders, business leaders and elected officials met to discuss the effects of the proposed restructuring of the Regional Transportation Authority in a forum on behalf of the Lake County Board.

In addition to county board members and mayors, forum participants included U.S. Rep. Mark Kirk (R-Fort Sheridan), Illinois Department of Transportation Secretary Tim Martin, State Sens. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) and William Peterson (R-Long Grove), State Reps. Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa), JoAnn Osmond (R-Antioch), Ed Sullivan (R-Mundelein) and Kathy Ryg (D-Vernon Hills) and McHenry County Chairman Mike Tryon.

"The proposed RTA restructuring could threaten a system of regional consensus that has worked well for more than 20 years," said Lake County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa). "The number of Lake County residents and businesses are growing exponentially. It doesn't matter what political party you are, we must work together for the best interests of Lake County."

A proposal to restructure the RTA Board was one of five recommendations presented to the Illinois General Assembly this spring by the Northeastern Illinois Regional Transportation Task Force.

Forum attendees expressed concerns about any changes to the RTA governance structure that would lessen input from suburban officials. They also cited numerous issues such as suburb-to-suburb and reverse commuting that need to be addressed.

Kirk, one of the forum speakers, noted that larger states such as Texas and Pennsylvania will compete with Illinois for Federal transportation funding. Kirk said Illinois' share of federal resources could be at risk if the State does not speak with a unified voice.

Other forum speakers included James LaBelle, Deputy Director of Chicago Metropolitan 2020, and Charles Lamphere, President of Van Vliessen & Co. in Lincolnshire. LaBelle, a former member of the Lake County Board and former county board chair, encouraged the audience to follow the policy debate with an open mind, particularly with regard to regional planning issues.

Lamphere, representing Lake County Partners, stressed the importance of transportation solutions to economic development in Lake County.

Mid-county sector getting water study

By BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

A professional stormwater management consulting firm has been hired to study a 9,260 acre watershed system in central Lake County that touches on five municipalities and a vast unincorporated area in the vicinity of Route 45 and Peterson Road.

Professionals from Applied Ecological Services of West Dundee have a contract issued by the Stormwater Management Agency (SMA) to produce an assessment of both north and south branches of Bull Creek and Bull's Brook.

The is the latest of efforts to study every watershed in Lake County, nature's natural gathering system that funnels water into the river systems of the Fox Lake, Des Plaines and Lake Michigan.

Patty Werner, watershed management specialist with SMA, said the watershed and sub-watershed studies provide information that allows governments and property owners, who are part of the study, to be proactive when it comes to flood control and land planning.

"Like we have with other areas, we're going to produce a plan that is not a regulation, but a guide for the future," Werner said at a meeting held at Libertyville Township Hall. "The document will improve coordination between all the stakeholders involved."

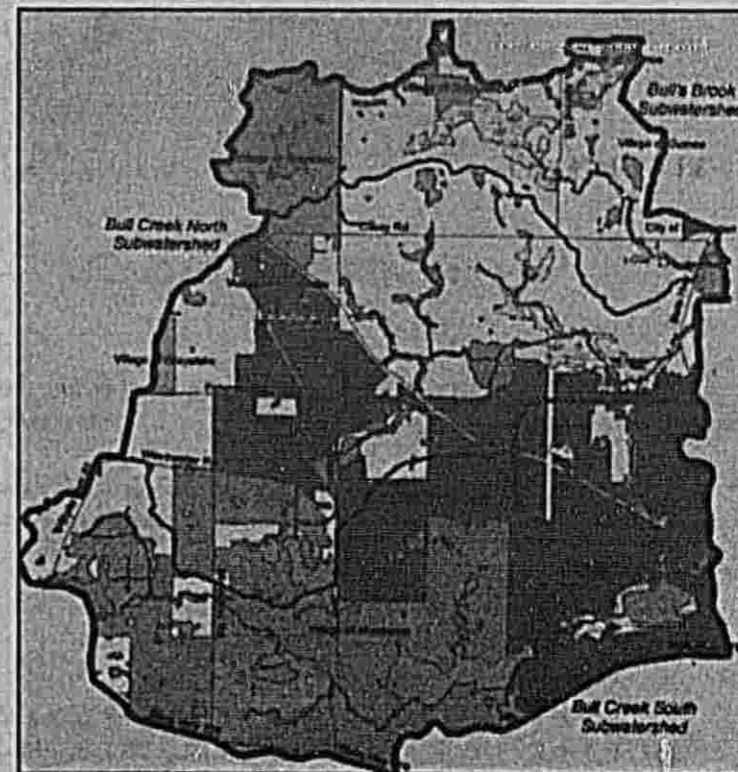

The program of study includes 10 meeting and a field trip. The aim is to have the study completed no later than June 2005.

Werner stressed that the study will relate to demographic changes seen for 2020 and 2030.

The area to be studied includes a number of lakes, both natural and man-made, plus pristine wetlands, including Almond Marsh on Forest Preserve property. Portions of Grayslake, Waukegan, Libertyville and Mundelein will be involved. Two railroads bisect the watershed. The study area includes a large portion of upscale single family residence zoning.

By coincidence, the Bull Creek and Bull's Brook study was launched the week of heavy flooding along the Des Plaines River, the receiving body of the more than 9,000 area sub-watershed. Oddly enough, there was no flooding of note in the study area.

A map of the Bull's Brook and Bull Creek north and south watersheds, surrounded by Libertyville, Mundelein and Grayslake and Gurnee, will undergo further study.

EDITORIAL

Midwest upbringing Reagan's advantage

In Ronald Reagan, Illinois will forever bask in the reflective glory of a great president, much like Abraham Lincoln. Let the historians and politicians ponder the levels of greatness, and let the partisan arguments wage, there is more than ample reason for pride in the fact that two remarkable leaders got their start in Illinois.

With the passing of President Reagan, three small central Illinois communities will have a special place in history as the launching points of a luminous leader. Tampico, Eureka and Dixon now are familiar places to all Americans after week-long funeral ceremonies. Just like Illinois residents have been making the pilgrimage for years to visit the Lincoln home and grave in Springfield and the tribute in New Salem to Lincoln's life as a young man, tourists and families will be making the trek to the three central Illinois towns to pay their respects and experience a sense of attachment to President Reagan.

Because of his early career in motion pictures and high profile participation in the emerging medium of network television, Ronald Reagan was a household word in America even before entering active political life at the comparatively advantaged age of 50. The familiarity might have been accompanied by contempt as it has happened so many times before with public figures. But not Ronald Reagan. The attachment and outright love grew as Americans became better acquainted with this remarkable man and his remarkable message.

A lasting tribute of the citizens of Illinois will be renaming a large portion of I-88 "The Ronald Reagan Memorial Highway." I-88 passes just south of Dixon. The Toll Highway Authority also names the portion of I-88 under its jurisdiction after Reagan. This means the entire highway, approximately 150 miles, will be named for the nation's 40th president.

America never tired of hearing or seeing Ronald Reagan. They connected with his basic philosophy and plain-spoken, straight-forward beliefs born out of an upbringing in the midwest. The connection grew to conviction and trust. Interestingly enough, citizens of other lands also connected with President Reagan because they could trust him or respect or rely on his judgment. Only a handful of world leaders possessed this quality, the mark of greatness. Winston Churchill comes to mind. Dwight Eisenhower. Ghandi. Golda Meier. Pope Paul.

Illinois' native son is part of the ages. May he rest in peace.

OTB different than casino boat

Legalized gambling continues to make inroads in Lake County. At times the tide seems inexorable. While the focus has been on casino riverboat gambling for many years, now the question is being raised for another off-track betting parlor.

Arlington Park racetrack operators, well known in this locality for the famed track in Arlington Heights, and an OTB location in Waukegan, have filed a request for a second location at Ivanhoe in unincorporated Lake County near Mundelein.

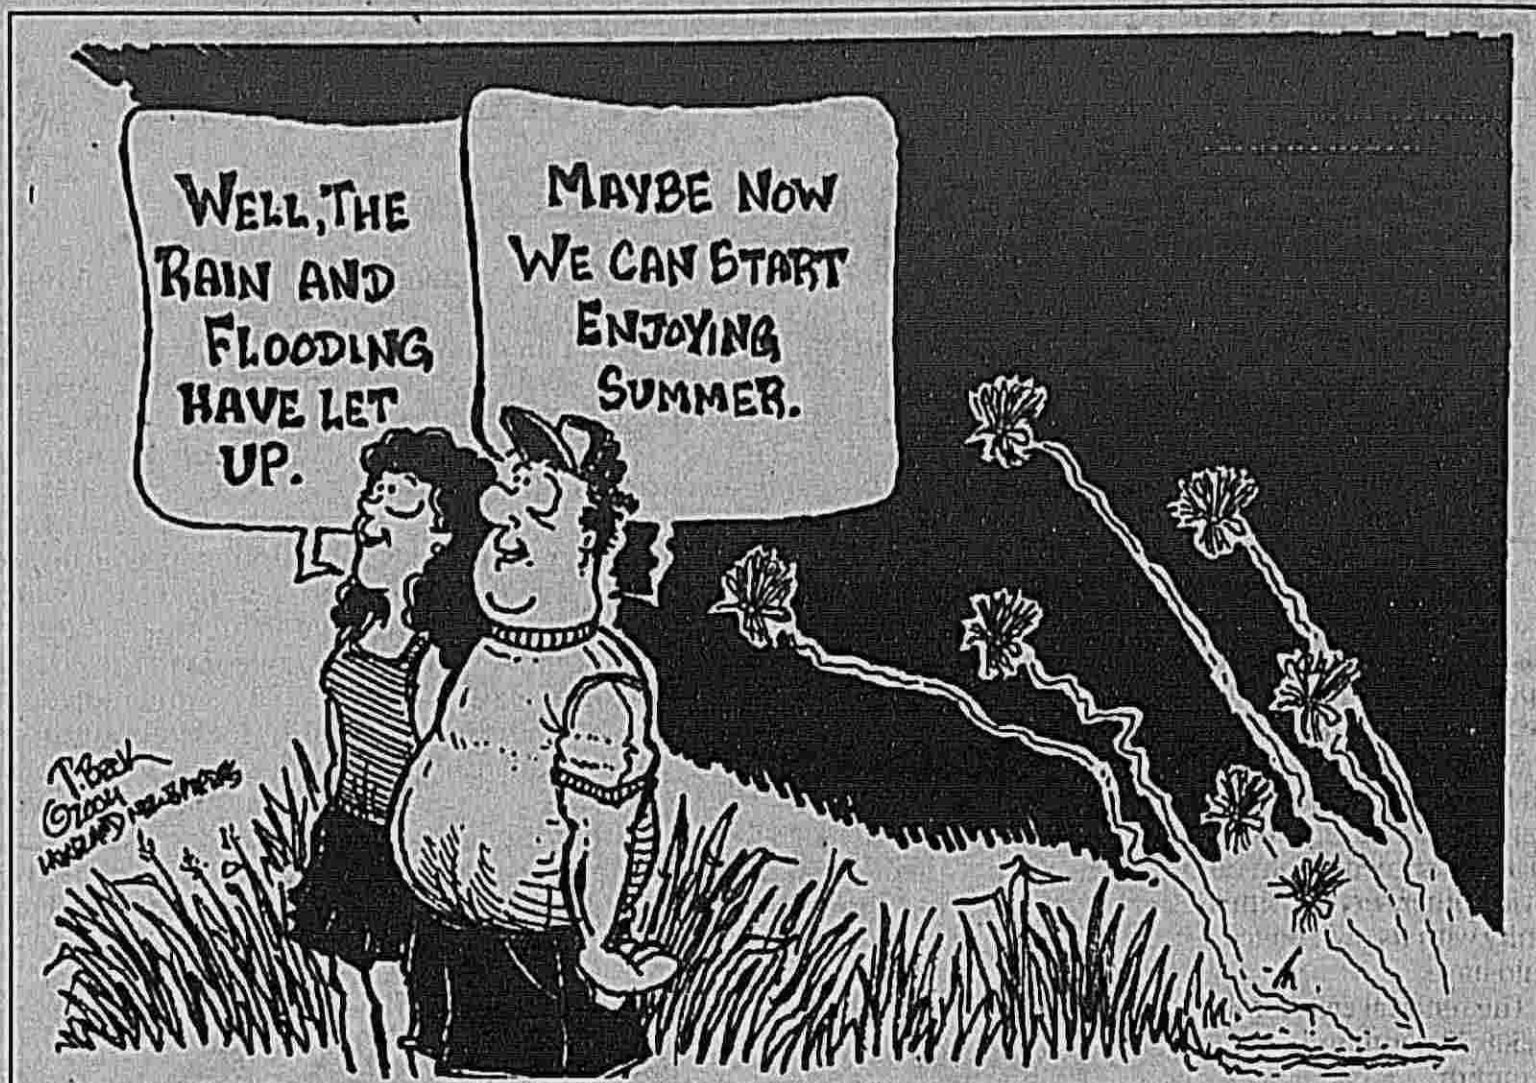

Riverboat casinos have been a tough sell in Lake County. Casino proposals were shot down for Fox River sites near Barrington and Antioch due to local opposition and moral grounds. A Fox Lake site never got beyond investors opening an office to lobby officials and plow through the seamy process of licensing. Waukegan leaders have been campaigning for a casino for years with the effort sometimes looking hopeful and sometimes swinging in the other direction.

Initial reaction to the Ivanhoe location at the corner of Rte. 83 and 60 hasn't exactly been warm. County Board Rep. Diana O'Kelly (R-Mundelein) in whose district the OTB would be located if approved, doesn't look kindly on the new neighbor. Mundelein officials are cautious and unequivocal. Only thing for sure so far is that county officials have voted to hold public hearings on how to regulate the OTB.

Keep in mind the big differences between a casino boat gambling center and an OTB. Casino boats are big and glitzy. They require a lot of space and infrastructure support. OTB's tend to be flat roofed, innocuous buildings that resemble undistinguished road-houses with more than the usual amount of parking space.

The Ivanhoe-Mundelein OTB will be regulated by the county because it is in unincorporated territory. An early hurdle will be passing muster with the county's complicated and still fairly new Unified Development Ordinance. We don't recall Arlington Park

VIEWPOINT

Fitzgerald's future in Ill.

Between now and election day in November, speculation will be rife over what retiring U.S. Sen. Peter Fitzgerald is going to do after leaving public office.

On record, the mild-mannered politician with deep conservative convictions has let it be known that he is considering buying a bank. Good possibility. Fitzgerald comes from a suburban family with deep roots in banking. He knows banking and he's good at it. Question: Where to buy? In McLean, Va., where he now lives or Inverness where he resided when entering Illinois politics more than a decade ago? Best bet is Illinois where there are banks of all sizes for sale. Fitzgerald has the where-withall to buy a bank even though he spent $14 million of his own money to get elected to the Senate at age 38.

Most unlikely is the possibility of Fitzgerald hanging around the Beltway to become a lobbyist or take an appointment in the Bush Administration, providing, of course, Bush is reelected.

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Fitzgerald has a world of options, including elective office in the future. At age 44, he could run for state-wide office, even the Senate down the line, or not-so-long shot, Congress from the 8th District, if and when Phil Crane decides to retire. Peter, as a young Illinois state senator from the Palatine district, gave that shot a few years back and put a scare into the redoubtable Crane.

The reluctant Republican is highly regarded for his honesty and integrity, two qualities that set him apart from mine-run politicians and the reason he was able to pull enough votes in a Democrat leaning state to defeat incumbent U.S. Sen. Carol Moseley Braun.

The perfect future for Sen. Fitzgerald after his successor is sworn in January, is to take up residence in Inverness, buy a nice community bank that will provide a base for both business and civic involvement and the roll up his sleeves to go to work rebuilding the Republican party of Illinois.

With his vast experience in state and federal government, serious demeanor and earnest baldness, Fitzgerald is the embodiment of an elder statesman, albeit youthful elder. That's the best kind of political elder statesman, by the way. Still brimming with energy and youth, a future offering promise and productivity.

The GOP needs Fitzgerald. Moreover, Illinois needs his kind of leadership. How about it Senator? Come on back home.

State responds to military concerns

In this day and age of answering machines, cell phones and e-mail, one of the things I find most frustrating is calling someone and not getting an answer. The phone rings and rings and rings, but no one answers. Finally, you hang up in frustration and wait to try again later.

In some ways, this echoes how veterans feel when trying to get answers from state government. You want someone to answer your questions, but cannot always get an answer. At least that is what I heard from Illinois veterans during hearings of the Task Force on Veterans last fall and spring. I am here to tell you that the Illinois General Assembly is listening and working to respond to your concerns.

This year, we sent a number of bills to the governor that will help veterans, enlisted military personnel and their families. Many of these address concerns heard during the hearings - rights for military families, the cost of license plates, and even cost concerns for veterans' organizations. Below are summaries of the legislation, which will become law if the Governor chooses to sign it.

Rights for enlisted military

Illinois is taking great steps to protect the education, employment and financial rights of its enlisted military personnel on active duty. Senate Bill 2526 will make information about these rights and responsibilities available to service members, their families and veterans' organizations through a new publication detailing all the information military families need.

Several new rights may be included in that publication if they become law. House Bill 4372 allows military personnel called to federal active duty the right to tuition and fee refunds or credits if they cannot complete the semester due to federal active duty. Illinois residents on state active duty already have this benefit.

Senate Bill 2755 allows long-time National Guard members who leave the guard while still in school to receive their tuition coverage for another year if they have not used their full tuition benefit. House Bill 4491 expands the MIA/POW scholarships to include dependents of Illinois National Guard members.

House Bill 4660 protects the right of enlisted military to return to their civilian jobs once their active duty ends. The bill would increase penalties for employers who fail to follow the law. Similarly, House Bill 4371 makes sure reserve members who could be called up at any time are not discriminated against by their employer.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Consider model for better policing

County Board candidate Larry Leafblad said he will push for systematic adoption of a plan for better police protection in unincorporated areas modeled after Long Grove's agreement with Lake County.

Long Grove is renewing its agreement with the county for the sheriff's department to patrol the village, which does not have a police department, eight hours a day and provide other services similar to what a community with its own police department would have.

The renewal calls for the rate of $14,506.73 per month going to $15,232.07 per month.

Leafblad, the Republican nominee in a mid-county district, sees a determining factor as "established" unincorporated communities, meaning areas with history of organization. As it is now, Sheriff Gary Del Re's policy is to get into the unincorporated areas as much as deputies can handle as part of their regular patrols.

Testing formality

Short of white tie and tails, an Evening with Congressman Mark Steven Kirk promises to be a glitzy event at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, June 20, at Lake Forest's Deer Path Inn. Hosts are William H. Griffin, a member of the board of directors of College of Lake County, and Ada A. Sanders, Republican activist. The event will have two parts, cocktails and hors d'oeuvres for a donation of $250 per person and dinner for an additional $250. Considering the formality of the event, prospective guests are wondering if Kirk will use the occasion to deliver another blast against Milwaukee officials who dumped raw sewage into Lake Michigan during May rains. Congressman Kirk referred to them as thoughtless "cheeseheads." That description usually is reserved for Bear fans when referring to Packer backers.

Political pals recorder candidate Dana Sabonjian with Buffy, Brady and Bisquit.

Leafblad: Wants to expand policing model to rural areas.

Kirk: Wonder if Kirk will expand 'cheesehead' jab.

Powers: Never hurts to have crutch in politics

Gentes: Can run faster for reelection next spring.

Party chief speaks

New Lake County Republican chair, State Rep. JoAnn Osmond (R-Antioch) made her first official report to party leaders Monday night at the Libertyville Township Republican Club's annual Spring Fling at White Deer Run Golf Course, Vernon Hills.

Buzzing supporters

Slobhan Sullivan of Mundelein is gaining a reputation for raising funds for candidates plus creating that elusive positive buzz office seekers covet. Sullivan, who is adding to her clientel, is staging a poolside luau event Sunday, June 27, at a private home in Riverwoods to aid the campaign of Paul Tully, candidate for state representative in a south Lake County district. Dr. Ken and Maureen Schmidt have opened their home for supporters of Tully, who is challenging 59th Dist. State Rep. Kathy Ryg (D-Vernon Hills). The pool gala follows a successful Tully fund event with a Mexican fiesta theme at a Vernon Hills eatery. Sullivan is the wife of State Rep. Ed Sullivan Jr. (R-Mundelein).

Pet Parade

Dana Sabonjian is banking on three furry pals to generate interest—and votes—in her campaign to unseat Democratic Recorder Mary Ellen Vanderventer. Buff, Brady and Bisquit, selected by Sabonjian from a cocker spaniel rescue shelter, proved to be big attractions when Sabonjian was rounding up signatures before the March primary. "You should see them work a parade," declared Sabonjian, who discounted golf outings as a way of winning votes.

Dangerous work

A committee-of-the-whole meeting of the Lake County Board resembled a MASH unit. Bob Powers (R-Round Lake) was on crutches, still recovering from complications of knee surgery. Bob Sabonjian (D-Waukegan) was wearing a neck brace. Carol Spielman (D-Highland Park) walked gingerly, one foot in a soft shoe. County Chair Suzi Schmidt, keeping allergies at bay, ran the meeting despite sniffles. Only 12 of 23 members were in attendance. Check local hospitals for whereabouts of the absentees.

Fit for action

Round Lake Mayor Bill Gentes, object of speculation about running for a second term next spring, is looking fit and trim for a campaign test. Gentes, 50 pounds lighter, responded only with a grin when asked about providing dieting pointers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Moving tribute

On June 12, the Village of Lake Villa hosted a Memorial Service for Ronald Reagan. I was privileged to help organize the service. For those who missed the service it was a dignified and solemn memorial to a great man. The memorial began with a welcome by Mayor Frank Loffredo, Boy Scout Troop 188 members raising the American flag to half staff and a beautiful rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner" by Miss Lake Villa Andrea Barnstable.

After the opening prayer by Pastor Eby of Calvary Christian Church, State Rep. Robert Churchill spoke about Ronald Reagan, his memories as a beam of light shown through the clouds as President Ronald Reagan was sworn in for his first term, then State Rep. Joann Osmond spoke of her memories of the President and State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis shared her personal experiences and meetings with President Reagan.

The keynote speaker was U.S. Congressman Phil Crane who I had forgotten ran as an opponent to Ronald Reagan in the 1980 presidential bid. Congressman Crane detailed his memories and meetings with Ronald Reagan. Congressman Crane paid tribute to a man that inspired him many years ago when Reagan outlined his vision of free enterprise, strong defense and less government. Congressman Crane explained how he still shares that vision today.

Boy Scout Troop 188 lowered the flag and Andrea Barnstable led the audience in "America the Beautiful." The Lake Villa and Antioch VFW along with the Lake Villa American Legion then proceed with a 21 gun salute followed by "Taps" being played by Robert Schmidt.

The point of my story is not so much the event as nice as it was, but how proud I am to be part of a community that can come together on such a short notice to put this memorial on. There were all the groups and public officials that participated in the event, what went unnoticed was the Lake Villa Village board that immediately jumped on board and supported the ceremony, the village police that provided extra manpower on short notices, the public works employees that came in to mow the lawn at 7 a.m. on a Saturday morning and individuals like Bill and Betty Burns that are always willing to step up an help for a good cause.

Daniel Venturi
Lake Villa Township Supervisor

Cooperation inspiring

Please let me extend my congratulations and appreciation to local officials and residents on their handling of the recent flooding. As I worked on sand-bagging efforts, I was truly moved to see residents working tirelessly to help their neighbors. It's inspiring to see communities come together in times of need. Special thanks to all the mayors, police and fire chiefs, state and county officials and their staffs who have done an amazing job of responding to this emergency. Faced with a challenge, they worked together to ensure fast and effective help was available.

I'm pleased that Governor Blagojevich officially declared the flooded areas disaster sites because of local officials' efforts; flooded areas will now receive the state and federal funding they so badly need. I will continue working with local officials to coordinate long-term efforts to help families and businesses in the area rebuild.

Facing opposition

Is there a future for Fox Lake? In 1988 internationally renowned architect, Don Erickson, had designed a beautiful Municipal Pier at the end of West Grand so that all our citizens could enjoy a view of our lakes. Permits were approved, monies and labor pledged. Pete Jakstas led a vigorous campaign in opposition.

It was near the end of my term as mayor. Battle weary, I pulled the plug on the project. The Boldt Family Trust subsequently withdrew funding for an attractive hotel complex on that end of town. None of Pete's opposition arguments were substantive. Sometimes volume wins over logic.

Now Fox Lake has a chance for a hotel water park complex we can be proud of. Even the schools seem to understand the short term and long term benefits to themselves and the community as a whole.

As I did before when I came out in support of the high school referendum, I have studied this project and the TIF proposal. It is logistically and financially sound. It has several protections for the community built into the agreement.

Pete and I have been on the same side on most issues in recent years. However, this time I respectfully suggest, when he brings his opposition petitions around, people respond with a polite "Thanks, but no thanks."

bosses having much trouble winning approval from Waukegan leaders. Besides complying with health and safety ordinances, approval mostly rests on what kind of a tax deal can be made with the track operators. Right now the Waukegan OTB outlet is producing about $400,000 per year for city revenue. In case you haven't looked, the county can also use new sources of revenue.

OTB's are an extension of the horseracing industry, which has a long and friendly relationship with state and local government. Arlington officials enjoy pointing out that their OTB facilities are points of convenience for racing fans seeking an opportunity to put down a wager on a legal and honorable sport. In the existing climate, the proposed OTB doesn't appear to face a whole lot of difficulty getting approved.

COMMENTARY

dealt with the cost of license plates. This year we passed two bills dealing with license plates for veterans. Senate Bill 2453 includes license plates for Gold Star recipients under the Circuit Breaker discount. House Bill 4489 allows Bronze Star and Silver Star recipients to get special license plates for the same price and regular license plate registration fees. Veterans' Organizations

House Bill 4400 allows parking lots of veterans' organizations to be part of the property tax freeze on their buildings. Veterans' organizations already receive a property tax discount on their buildings, which helps keep down the costs of providing services to veterans throughout Illinois.

We must do all we can for our veterans. Although I am a veteran, I am not speaking for myself. Thankfully, I have not had the need of these benefits, but thousands more veterans do need this assistance. They gave of themselves for this country and they deserve all the help we can give them. I hope the governor will quickly sign these bills into law. The veterans of Illinois deserve an answer.

State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis represents the 31st District in Lake County. She currently serves as chairman of the Senate Republican Task Force on Veterans. Senator Geo-Karis served as Lt. Commander with top secret clearance in the U.S. Naval Reserves.

Christensen, volunteers lauded for flood efforts

By JEFF ZACHARY
jzachary@lakelandmedia.com

The Lake County Board members expressed their appreciation to all off the volunteers in the community for their help during the recent flooding in Gurnee and all along the Des Plaines River.

In particular, the board praised the Lake County Emergency Management Agency Coordinator Dave Christensen from a job well done.

"I want to say a sincere thank you during this flooding event to Dave Christensen," said Lake County Board Chairman Suzi Schmidt. "I guess you are never quite prepared for something like this but I don't know if Dave ever slept. Whenever I was out there he was out there and I just want to say thank you Dave for all your hard work and coordination. You guys did a great job and I was extremely impressed," Schmidt added.

The Chairman also praised the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts and all of the kids who were not in school who spent their time helping to bag sand.

Schmidt also had kind words for several board members including Steve Carlson (R-Gurnee) and Sandy Cole (R-Grayslake) for all of their work in sandbagging and trying to protect the property of Lake County residents.

Board member Ann Maine (R-Lincolnshire) said she was also impressed with the team effort of the residents during the disaster.

"The levy held at North Libertyville Estates and that was great," Maine said. "I want to say thank you to Dave, too. He gave me his cell phone number, which is now programmed into mine. He was great about keeping me up to date on what was happening with the levy," she added.

Maine also thanked all of the businesses who brought over meals to feed the volunteers during the disaster.

The Lake County Board Chairman also had kind words for her director of the Transportation Division.

She said that during the flood she heard that Washington Street was going to have to be closed down and she became worried because Route 120 was already closed.

David Christensen

"Marty Buehler, himself, was out sandbagging for four hours and we kept Washington Street open," said Schmidt.

It's interesting to note that the Emergency Management Agency led by Christensen operates under the day-to-day control of Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re and is responsible for developing a countywide emergency preparedness plan. The Lake County plan addresses major hazards and coordinates disaster response of all county resources including communications, police, fire and rescue units, hospitals, religious and charitable organizations. The emergency plan is exercised regularly by conducting drills that deal with simulated nuclear accidents, flooding, hazardous material spills, and severe weather. During periods of disaster and major emergencies, the Emergency Management Agency acts as the primary liaison to the Illinois and federal emergency management agencies.

As a part of emergency preparedness, the emergency management agency maintains an updated emergency resources database of items and facilities that could be of use during disaster response. Examples include generators, pumps, sandbags, and buildings capable of providing shelter.

Some dead birds test positive for West Nile Virus in area

A dead blue jay found in Antioch on June 5 has tested positive for West Nile virus. The Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center collected the bird and submitted it to the Illinois Department of Public Health for testing. The bird is the first indicator of the disease's presence in Lake County in 2004.

"This serves as a reminder that we need to continue to take precautions against mosquitoes," said Dale Galassie, the Health Department's executive director. "The best defense is to eliminate the places where mosquitoes breed and protect yourself against mosquito bites. We are asking residents of Lake County to continue to partner with us to control the spread."

The Health Department has activated its West Nile virus hotline for county residents to report dead birds, report areas of stagnant water (which are conducive for mosquito breeding), or to obtain more information on the signs and symptoms of West Nile encephalitis. The West Nile virus hotline number is 847-377-8300.

Last season, Lake County reported one human case of West Nile virus. Additionally, four dead crows and 17 mosquito pools tested positive for the disease. Information about WNV can be found on the Department's Website at: www.co.lake.il.us/health/WestNile.htm.

County eyes purchase of 60 more ballot counters

By JEFF ZACHARY
jzachary@lakelandmedia.com

The Lake County Board passed a resolution authorizing the Lake County Clerk's office to purchase 60 additional M100 Optical Scan Ballot counters with metal ballot bins from Elections Systems and Software, Inc.

The cost of the new equipment is $312,000 and the funding is to come from an excess in the 2003 fund balance.

Board member Michael Talbott (R-Lake Zurich) explained where the money is coming from. "The money for this is part of a reimbursement (from previous election related purchases) that came from the Federal government through the State and there is some money in that account for future purchases, because over time the number of precincts is growing. In 2000, for example, there were 403 precincts and now there is 449," Talbott said.

At the time the original system was purchased by Lake County in August of 2000, 25 reserve ballot counters were purchased as replacement units.

The additional Ballot Counters are necessary due to growth in Lake County since 2001 which has reduced the number of Ballot Counters available for replacement on election day.

There were approximately 190 voting sites in 2000 and there are 211 sites in 2004.

There is currently a need to split some more Lake County precincts in response to new residential growth, which will create additional precincts and the need for the additional ballot counters.

In response to a question from Lake County Board member Bonnie Thomson Carte (R-Fox Lake) Lake County Clerk Willard Helander said the county has received about $1.2 million in Federal Reimbursement money which will be used for election related purchases.

Starck elected chief judge

Replaces Smoker, to serve 1-year term

Christopher C. Starck, a circuit court judge and presiding judge of the Felony Division of Lake County, will serve as the next chief judge of the 19th Judicial Circuit of Lake and McHenry counties.

Starck, one of 16 current sitting circuit judges, was elected unanimously last week at the judges semiannual meeting in Antioch.

His one-year term will not begin until Dec. 1, because it is customary that the chief judge election take place six months prior to the beginning of the term to provide for a smooth transition. It is commonplace in the 19th Circuit that a chief judge will be re-elected to a second one-year term.

"I will work very hard to carry on the exemplary efforts that have been evidenced by my predecessors, and I thank you for this honor," Starck said.

Born in Chicago, Starck's family had moved to Deerfield where he attended grammar school and graduated from Deerfield High School. In 1976 he received a Bachelor of Science degree from Carroll College in Waukesha, and he earned his Juris Doctor in 1979 from Loyola University School of Law. He was admitted to the Illinois Bar in 1979 and he had worked as an associate in several law firms until he formed the law firm partnership in 1985 known then as "Smoker and Starck."

Judge Starck was appointed to the bench on April 1, 1989. He has heard all types of cases including civil, criminal and traffic. He is currently sitting in the felony division.

In 1999 the Supreme Court appointed Judge Starck to a committee to study the trial and sentencing processes in capital cases in Illinois, including the respective functions of the prosecution, defense counsel, and the judiciary. He has served for the past few years as faculty in training other judges in Illinois on capital litigation, mandated training for judges who hear capital cases. He has also lectured at numerous bar association and Illinois Judicial seminars on Criminal Law topics.

In March 2000, the Supreme Court appointed Judge Starck Circuit Judge of the 19th Circuit to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of then Circuit Judge Bernard E. Drew. In November 2002, he ran successfully in the general election for a six year term.

Starck is also a member of the Illinois State Bar Association; Illinois Judges Association; and the Lake County Bar Association. He is the current chair of Lake County's judicial public relations committee that conducts a variety of public awareness and educational programs for kids and adults.

Starck and his wife, Laura, reside in the Mundelein area with their four children.

State-of-the-Art Surgery

Get a "Leg Up" on Varicose Veins at the Vista Surgery and Treatment Center

Varicose veins occur when the valves in your veins don't open and close properly. Blood gathers in the veins and they become varicose, or "enlarged". Varicose veins are not only unsightly, but often cause leg pain, fatigue and other symptoms.

Transilluminated powered phlebectomy allows the surgeon to remove the vein using a small surgical device while viewing the vein with a light that passes through the skin. The veins are then removed using a few small incisions. This brief procedure can mean a quicker recovery time with good cosmetic results.

This is just one of many outpatient surgical procedures performed at the Vista Surgery and Treatment Center, Lindenhurst. For more information, call 847.356.4710.

Fourth time's a charm

Corsairs win 1st state tourney game, finish 3rd

By ROB BACKUS
rbackus@lakelandmedia.com

You would think that after 43 games together, including three games in two days, these players would spend at least a day or two apart. You'd be wrong.

On Sunday, the entire Carmel baseball team gathered at head coach Chuck Gandolfi's house for a barbecue. This was one day after playing a doubleheader at the IHSA state tournament in Geneva.

"This was a close-knit team," Gandolfi said. "All of the ingredients were there that made this a fun team. They did everything together."

Maybe that's what made this particular Carmel team special. Sure, the school has had its share of outstanding teams, including four 30-win seasons, but those teams always seemed to fizzle out at the end.

That includes the three previous state-qualifying teams (1990, 1994 and 1999). Each of those teams lost the opener of the state tourney.

This time around, however, Carmel finally got over the hump, winning a pair of games at Elfstrom Stadium in Geneva and finishing third in the state.

Carmel took game one of the state tournament, defeating Batavia 7-1.

Senior hurler Bryan Dovichi got the win, throwing a no-hitter over the first four innings. He gave up just four hits overall.

"My fastball was working all game," said Dovichi, who improved to 10-2 with the win. "So was my curveball."

Nate Rittenberry led the Corsairs at the plate, going 3-for-4 with 3 RBI.

His first two RBI came in a third inning with the game tied 0-0. With Dovichi and Mike Morrissey in scoring position, Rittenberry came up and drilled a two-run triple to right-centerfield. He later scored on a sac-bunt RBI from Mike Serio.

"When guys at the bottom of the order get on base, the rest of us concentrate a little more," Rittenberry said. "This is a big ballpark so I knew I wasn't going to hit one out. I was just trying to hit a gapper."

Rittenberry later added an RBI double to almost the exact same spot, plating John Brennan and giving the Corsairs their 7th and final run.

And the mood in the Carmel locker room was undeniably excited after the game.

"Today was definitely sweet," Rittenberry said. "A lot of us saw the '99 game that Carmel lost and we all knew that we've never won a game at state."

The Corsairs seemed poised to earn another win and a spot in the state title game the next day against ESCC rival Notre Dame.

The team jumped all over the Dons early, taking a 7-0 lead after two innings, culminating with a 3-run homer just inside the left field foul pole by Adam Kanka.

With Carmel up 7-2 in 4th inning, Brandon Ziemann came up and ripped a 400-foot homer over the scoreboard in left center.

"I was just looking to hit the ball up the middle," Ziemann said of his majestic homer.

With his team up 9-2 in the 5th inning, Gandolfi decided to pull starter Mike O'Leary, who had held the Dons largely in check.

Notre Dame then proceeded to score six runs over the next two innings off Rittenberry to pull to within 9-8.

"Mike just started piling up a lot of pitches," Gandolfi said. "He was starting to fall behind some hitters."

Still, Carmel appeared to be in good shape after Ziemann came up in the 6th inning and ripped another round tripper to left to extend the lead to 10-8.

Dovichi came in to the game for the save, but Notre Dame scored three runs to take an 11-10 lead. The Corsairs went down 1-2-3 in the bottom of the inning.

"You think that some things can never happen, but they happen all the time and unfortunately, we were on the other end," Gandolfi said. "They got the momentum and we couldn't stop them."

Just three hours later, though, Carmel bounced back and destroyed St. Charles East in the third-place game, 13-3 in six innings.

Down 3-2 in the 5th, the Corsairs scored 11 runs in the final two innings to seal the win.

"We played so many doubleheaders during the season, so I just told the guys to get ready for the second game," Gandolfi said.

The 2-1 record at state improved Carmel's final record to 34-9. Ziemann and Rittenberry were named to the All-Tournament team.

Local Business Offers FREE SERVICE

This springs rainfall has left many residents of Lake & McHenry Counties concerned about the impact wet basements will have, not only on the longer term structural soundness of their homes, but also on the personal health of their families. As most of you already know wet basements are a breeding ground for molds, mildews, bacteria, & fungi.

A national company has offered to assist county residents, which are experiencing musty or mold issues due to damp or flooded basements, by providing a device, which would be placed in their home or basement for 3days to help kill potentially dangerous molds, mold spores, airborne pathogens & eliminate musty odors.

This company has offered to provide this service FREE OF CHARGE through JULY. This will be handled on a 1st come, "1st serve basis". Placements will be handled locally through NaturalAir & Water Systems. You can contact them at 1-847-497-9174 M-F between 8am & 7pm or on the web @ www.naturalairandwater.com to arrange for setup & pickup times & dates. Platinum Member G.M.L.V Chamber of Commerce.

Fox Lake IL0970200 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report For the period of January 1 to December 31, 2003

The Village of Fox Lake has available upon request this year's Consumer Confidence Report (CCR). The CCR includes basic information on the source(s) of your drinking water, the levels of any contaminants that were detected in the water during 2003, and compliance with other drinking water rules, as well as some educational materials. To obtain a free copy of the report, please call Keith Peterson at 847-587-4671 or you may pick one up at the Fox Lake Village Hall, 66 Thillen Drive, Fox Lake.

This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts made by the Fox Lake water system to provide safe drinking water. The source of drinking water used by Fox Lake is ground.

For more information regarding this report, contact:
Fox Lake Sewer & Water Department
847-587-4671 or e-mail petersok@foxlake.org

Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre el agua que usted bebe. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

ABOUT OUR WATER SYSTEM

In 1928 the Village of Fox Lake Public Water System was put into service. The system supplied potable water to our residents from RT.12 & Grand Ave. to Washington St. & Rollins Rd. The system also supplied potable water north up Forest Ave. to Lakeview Ave. & Howard Ave. The distribution system was comprised of a 60,000-gallon water tower floating over 107' 8" & 2" cast iron water mains. Well #1, drilled in 1928, supplied all the Village's treated water until 1941.

Well #2, put into service in 1941. Iron removal filters were required to reduce the iron concentration to an acceptable limit. In 1976 a new 500,000-gallon water tower and new Well #3 was put into service. Well #3 along with Wells #1&2 supplied all the Village's potable water until 1988.

Well #4 drilled in 1987 was put into service in 1988. Not unlike Well #2 Iron Removal Filters were required to reduce the treated water iron concentration to an acceptable limit. In 1999 a 250,000-gallon water tower was constructed to replace the original 60,000-gallon tower.

In the spring of 2004 new well #5 was put into service. Well #5, not unlike Well #2 & #4, required Iron Removal Filters in order to reduce the treated water iron concentration to an acceptable limit.

Today our Water System supplies 500,000 to 1,000,000 gallons of potable water per day for over 5,000 Village residents, and our water system now reaches as far south as Rt. 134 & Rt. 12. Wells #1,2,4&5 supply all of the Village's treated water.

Water from Well #1 is pumped and blended with filtered water from Well #2. Polyphosphates are added for corrosion control, followed by the addition of fluorine to help control tooth decay, chlorine is then added for disinfection. Water from Well #4 is pumped and filtered for iron, polyphosphates are added for corrosion control, followed by the addition of fluorine to help control tooth decay, chlorine is then added for disinfection.

Water from Well #5 is pumped and filtered for iron, polyphosphates are added for corrosion control, followed by the addition of fluorine to help control tooth decay, chlorine is then added for disinfection.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. Sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.

Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture and residential uses.

Radioactive contaminants, which are naturally occurring.

Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that your water is safe to drink, the I.E.P.A. prescribes regulations limiting the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by Public Water Systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water with their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Regulated Contaminants Detected in 2003 (collected in 2003 unless noted)

Lead and Copper

Definitions:

Action Level (AL): The concentration of a contaminant, which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Action Level Goal (ALG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. ALG's allow for a margin of safety.

Lead MCLG	Lead Action Level (AL)	Lead 90% Percentile	9 Sites Over Lead AL	Copper MCLG	Copper Action Level (AL)	Copper 90% Percentile	5 Sites Over Copper AL
0 ppb	15 ppb	11	8	1.3 ppm	1.3 ppm	1.08	4

Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits

COPPER

Copper is an essential nutrient, but some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over a relatively short amount of time could experience gastrointestinal distress. Some people who drink water, containing copper in excess of the action level over many years could suffer liver or kidney damage. People with Wilson's Disease should consult their personal doctor.

Samples taken on 12/31/2002 show 1 sample site to exceed the action limit for copper. The Fox Lake Water & Sewer Department is now adding a chemical known as Aqua Mag®. The addition of this chemical in other Water Systems has effectively controlled red water in the distribution system and has also been found to protect plumbing from the corrosive effects of some waters.

LEAD

Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home's water, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using tap water. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Samples taken on 12/31/2002 show 8 sample sites to exceed the action limit for lead. The Fox Lake Water & Sewer Department is now adding a chemical known as Aqua Mag®. The addition of this chemical in other Water Systems has effectively controlled red water in the distribution system and has also been found to protect plumbing from the corrosive effects of some waters.

Water Quality Test Results

Definitions: The following tables contain scientific terms and measures, some of which may require explanation.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCL's are set as close to the Maximum Contaminant Level Goal as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLG's allow for a margin of safety.

Mg/L: milligrams per litre or ppm; parts per million - or one ounce in 7,350 gallons of water.

µg/l: micrograms per litre or ppb; parts per billion - or one ounce in 7,350,000 gallons of water.

na: not applicable.

Avg: Regulatory compliance with some MCLs are based on running annual average of monthly samples.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL): The highest level of disinfectant allowed in drinking water.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDLG): The level of disinfectant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLG's allow for a margin of safety.

2003 Violation Summary Table:

Rule or Contaminant	Violation Type	Violation Duration
1,1,1-TRICHLOROETHANE	MONITORING, ROUTINE MAJOR	1/1/2003 To 3/31/2003
Health Effects: Failure to collect the required number of samples.
1,2-DICHLOROETHANE	MONITORING, ROUTINE MAJOR	1/1/2003 To 3/31/2003
Health Effects: Failure to collect the required number of samples.
VINYL CHLORIDE	MONITORING, ROUTINE MAJOR	1/1/2003 To 3/31/2003
Health Effects: Failure to collect the required number of samples.

Our water system violated drinking water standards over the past year. Even though these were not emergencies, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened and what we did to correct these situations.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. During January 1, 2003 through March 31, 2003 we did not monitor or test for Volatile Organic Chemicals and therefore cannot be sure of the quality of our drinking water during that time. The Sewer & Water Department rarely misses a sample, but in error this sample was not taken. Samples have since been taken and the Sewer & Water Department has taken steps to eliminate this occurrence from happening again.

For more information, please contact Fox Lake Sewer & Water Department at 847-587-4671 or e-mail at petersok@foxlake.org or mail correspondence to 100 Industrial Ave. Fox Lake IL 60026.

2001 Source Water Assessment Summary

The Village of Fox Lake (Facility Number 0970200) utilize three active public water supply wells. Well #1 (Illinois EPA #20005), well #2 (Illinois EPA #20006), and well #4 (Illinois EPA #00220) distribute 599,000 gallons per day on average to an estimated population of 3,789 at 1,375 service connections. Based on information obtained in a Well Site Survey published in 1992 by the Illinois EPA, twenty-six potential sources or possible problem sites were identified within the survey area of Fox Lake's wells. Furthermore, information provided by the Leaking Underground Storage Tank and Remedial Project Management Sections of the Illinois EPA indicated several additional sites with ongoing remediations, which may be of concern.

The Illinois EPA has determined that the Fox Lake's wells #1 and #2 source water is not susceptible to contamination. However, the source water obtained from Well #4 is susceptible to contamination. This determination is based on a number of criteria including: monitoring conducted at the wells; monitoring conducted at the entry point to the distribution system; and the available hydrogeologic data on the wells. The Illinois Environmental Protection Act provides minimum protection zone of 400 feet for Fox Lake well #4 and 200 feet for well #1 and #2. These minimum protection zones are regulated by the Illinois EPA.

To further minimize the risk to the groundwater supply, the Illinois EPA recommends that six additional activities be assessed.

First, the village should obtain aquifer property data and groundwater flow direction information so the recharge area for the villages Well #4 can be mapped. This information can be obtained by completing pump tests on the CWS well and completing mass water level measurements on wells finished in the aquifer utilized by Well #4.

Regulated Contaminants

Disinfectants & Disinfection By-Products

THM's (Total Trihalomethanes)	3	3-1	ppb	na	80	No	By-product of drinking water chlorination
-------------------------------	---	-----	-----	----	----	----	---

Inorganic Contaminants

Barium	0.063	0.07-0.083	ppm	2	2	No	Discharge of drilling wastes; Discharge from metal refineries; Erosion of natural deposits
Fluoride	1.74	1-1.74	ppm	4	4	No	Erosion of natural deposits; Water additive which promotes strong teeth; Fertilizer discharge
Nitrate-Nitrite	0.31	0.31-0.31	ppm	10	10	No	Runoff from fertilizer use; Leaching from septic tanks, sewage; Erosion of natural deposits
Nitrate (As N)	0.31	0.31-0.31	ppm	10	10	No	Runoff from fertilizer use; Leaching from septic tanks, sewage; Erosion of natural deposits
Selenium	1.5	1.5-1.5	ppb	50	50	No	Discharge from petroleum and metal refineries; Erosion of natural deposits

Radioactive Contaminants

Alpha Emitters	2.603	2.603-2.603	pCi/L	0	15	No	Erosion of natural deposits
----------------	-------	-------------	-------	---	----	----	-----------------------------

Volatile Organic Contaminants

1,1,1-Trichloroethane	3.5	3-3.5	ppb	200	200	Yes	Discharge from metal degreasing site sand other factories
-----------------------	-----	-------	-----	-----	-----	-----	---

State Regulated Contaminants

Iron	210	190-210	ppb	na	1000	No	Erosion from naturally occurring deposits
Manganese	4.9	1.3-4.9	ppb	na	150	No	Erosion of naturally occurring deposits
Sodium	30	21-30	ppm	na	na	No	Erosion of naturally occurring deposits; used in water softener regeneration
Zinc	6.4	6.4-6.4	ppb	na	5000	No	Naturally occurring; discharge from metal factories

There is not a state of federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers and health officials that are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If you are on a sodium-restricted diet, you should consult a physician about this level of sodium in the water.

*MCL Statement: The maximum contaminant level (MCL) for THM and HAA5 is 80 ppb and 60 ppb respectively and is currently only applicable to surface water supplies that serve 10,000 or more people. These MCLs will become effective 06/01/2004 for all groundwater supplies and surface supplies serving less than 10,000 people. Until 06/01/2004, surface water supplies serving less than 10,000 people, any size water supply that purchase from a surface water source, and groundwater supplies serving more than 10,000 people must meet a state imposed TTUM MCL of 100 ppm. Some people who drink water containing trihalomethanes in excess of the MCL over many years experience problems with their livers, kidneys, or central nervous systems, and may have increased risk of getting cancer.

Upon completing this effort, the village may wish to enact a "maximum setback zone" ordinance(s) to further protect their water supply. These ordinances are authorized by the Illinois Environmental Protection Act and allow county and municipal officials the opportunity to provide additional protection up to a fixed distance, normally 1,000 feet, from their well.

Third, the village should explore the options of either properly abandoning inactive Well #3 or retrofitting it for use as a source of water supply. Inactive wells that are not properly abandoned can act as direct conduits for surficial contaminants into the aquifer and are considered "potential routes of groundwater contamination" under the Environmental Protection Act.

Fourth, the water supply staff may wish to revisit their contingency planning documents. Contingency planning documents are a primary means to ensure that, through emergency preparedness, a village will minimize their risk of being without safe and adequate water.

Fifth, the water supply staff is encouraged to review their cross connection control program to ensure that it remains current and viable. Cross connections to either the water treatment plant (for example, at bulk water loading stations) or in the distribution system may negate all source water protection initiatives provided by the village.

Finally, the Illinois EPA recommends that the village investigate additional source water protection management options to address land use activities within the recharge area of Well #4. Specifically, these management options must include potential impacts from point and nonpoint sources of groundwater contamination.

Village Board Meetings

- The Village Board meets on the second, third and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 7:00 pm at the Village Hall located at 66 Thillen Drive.
- The Sewer & Water Committee meet on the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 pm at the Village Hall. Please feel free to attend these meetings.

A Few Words From The Sewer & Water Dept.

The Sewer & Water Dept. flush the fire hydrants twice a year, once in the spring and again in the fall. This flushing is required to insure our fire hydrants are working properly and to clean the water mains of sediments that cause red water and odor problems. Your Patients is greatly appreciated during this procedure.
